Tree Fruits Starts To Function Today On '39 Cherry Deal

Dave McNair Has Assumed Duties and Has Been Busy Collecting Organization to Handle This Year's Fruit Crop—Commence Handling of Entire Cherry Crop This Morning—Board of Governors Met on Monday

Board Chairman Issues Statement

DAVE McNair who last week was appointed sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., grower-controlled company which has been designated as the single selling agency of the entire Okanagan fruit crop for this year, has assumed his duties and is now occupying temporary quarters in the B.C. Fruit Board offices.

The organization today, Thursday, takes over control of the cherry deal, as was agreed at a meeting of interested shippers in Kelowna on Tuesday. Thus the new organization starts to function today.

The staff which will work under Mr. McNair is being rapidly assembled and is now in the process of adjusting itself to the workings of the new organization.

It is understood that all shippers from Salmon Arm to Keremeos have signed the contract with B.C. Tree Fruits excepting one or two which have been delayed owing to amalgamation proceeding or the absence of directors. These organizations have given satisfactory assurances that the contract will be signed at the first possible moment.

The board of governors of Tree Fruits Ltd., met on Monday and considered that progress has been satisfactory. The brokerage question was discussed at some length, as was advertising.

A. K. Loyd, chairman of the board of governors, on Wednesday issued a statement to The Courier covering the Monday meeting.

He said:

"The meeting of the governors of the above company was held in the board room and the actions of the executive, since the last meeting, were reviewed. The President and the Executive explained the steps that had been taken to obtain the contracts from valley shippers and reported that, with the exception of one or two agreements delayed owing to circumstances such as company amalgamation and absence of executives, progress had been fully satisfactory.

"Mr. McNair had assumed his duties as Sales Manager and, as occupying temporary accommodation in the B.C. Fruit Board Offices, the board members having done all they can to provide the space necessary. It is anticipated that very shortly further accommodation would be available close to the present quarters.

"The governors spent considerable time in the afternoon dealing with the brokerage question and the possibilities of using the facilities of the Canadian Fruit Distributors on a somewhat similar basis to the plan outlined between the three major shipping groups three months ago. The decision on this matter will be announced shortly.

"The board of governors went at considerable length into the question of provision for advertising in the new plans of the single agency. The viewpoint was that the control of any funds raised for this account should rest with the Sales Manager.

"Mr. McNair is rapidly putting together the staff with whom he expects to handle this year's crop and has already taken the necessary steps to attend to the cherry deal. A meeting of all those interested in the shipment of this commodity was held on the 20th in Kelowna, when the matter was fully discussed.

A report of the cherry meeting appears in another column.

Delegation Urges Council to Act On Horse Hitching Problem

Mayor Tells Trade Bodies' Representatives That Problem Will Be Given Every Consideration

The horse drivers' case for a suitable parking lot for their horses was voiced before the council on Monday night by a delegation representing the senior board of trade, the junior board of trade and the retail merchants' association. His Worship the Mayor told the delegation that every effort would be considered and every careful investigation the most suitable lot would be equipped with a shelter, lights and water.

The delegation was composed of D. C. Paterson, president of the senior board, D. Fillmore of the junior board and Chester Owen of the retail merchants' association.

Mr. Paterson traced the history of the movement on the part of the urban dwellers who drive horses to obtain a satisfactory parking space. He said a couple of weeks ago a large meeting was held in the country and at the forty present twenty-one persons depended entirely upon horse-drawn vehicles for their locomotion. The retail merchants and the board of trade had been approached by a delegation appointed by this body and the delegation urged action by the city to accommodate these people who bring much business to the city stores. The delegation felt that the present hitching lot immediately behind the fire hall was unsuitable as it was too far from the main business section and was too isolated. This latter factor made it inadvisable to leave parcels there as there had been so much pilfering.

The rural delegation had expressed itself as favoring the lot on Water street behind Chapman's barn and hoped that the city would erect suitable accommodation there.

Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Owen, both supported Mr. Paterson's remarks on behalf of their respective organizations.

His Worship stated that the council appreciated the difficulty but pointed out that only a few years ago the merchants themselves provided hitching posts in front of their stores. The council had been endeavoring to solve the problem for some months but had thought that the lot which was now being used was the most suitable to erect.

Alderman Horn pointed out that the main objection to the present site seems to be lack of light and protection. This could be overcome to a great extent by a light controlled from the firehall being installed. The discussion ended with the Mayor promising a thorough investigation.

Britain Intensifies Defence Work

Despite the lull in the European situation, Great Britain is reported intensifying her defence preparations. This unusual photo was snapped just as a plane was catapulted from the deck of H. M. S. Repulse to battle the "enemy" and act as the eyes of the fleet. The action occurred during naval manoeuvres off the coast of Portland.

JUNIOR BOARDERS ATTEND COUNCIL

George Morrow, Jack Gordon and W. Loyd-Jones, representing the civic affairs committee of the junior board of trade, attended the city council meeting on Monday night as interested observers. The junior board has adopted the policy of having a number of its members attend the council meeting to obtain a background into the procedure.

PENDOZI WILL PLAY HOST TO TRADE BODIES

Members of Junior and Senior Boards to be Taken for Cruise Down Lake on Friday Evening

FERRY ABOUT READY Board of Trade Executive Will Cross Lake on Pendozi's First Official Trip

M.S. Pendozi and the provincial government will play host to members of the Kelowna board of trade and the junior board of trade on Friday evening when it will cruise down Okanagan Lake for an hour and a half run.

At six-thirty the Pendozi will leave the permanent ferry slip on Mill Avenue carrying a capacity load of members of the two local trade bodies. The ferry will proceed some distance down the lake and after an hour's cruise will turn back towards this city.

The object of the trip is to give the local business men an opportunity to examine the new craft and to ascertain how smoothly she operates.

The arrangements of the entire trip are in the hands of the local district engineer, Mr. Stowe. During the next two days members of the senior and junior boards of trade will be contacted and invited to participate in the trip.

Mr. Stowe has also arranged that the executive of the board of trade will be the public works department's guests upon the first official run of the new ferry when she takes over the regular schedule from the present craft.

The last few final adjustments are being made now on the Pendozi and she is expected by noon Thursday to have the official approval of the Dominion government officials who have been giving her a thorough examination during the past week.

The date she will commence her actual regular schedule is not as yet determined.

His second article appears in this issue.

City Electric Rates Will be Reduced Council States

First Twenty-five Kilowatt Hours on Domestic Rates to be Dropped One Cent From Ten to Nine—Penalty Percentage Also Cut From Twenty-five to Ten—Probably Effective in August—Reduction Comes After Long Public Agitation

City Revenue Suffers by $2,400.00

KELOWNA domestic electric power users are to receive the benefit of a cut in the rate of the power they use, according to an announcement made at the city council meeting on Monday night by Alderman Pettigrew, chairman of the electric power and waterworks department.

The rate of the first twenty-five kilowatt hours used will be reduced from ten to nine cents, making a reduction of twenty-five cents per month in the average bill, or three dollars a year.

The city has also slashed the penalty imposed for late payment of accounts from twenty-five per cent to ten per cent.

The reductions will not probably be effective until the August accounts as the new rates must be approved by Victoria and the necessary bylaw passed. This will take at least a month.

In making the announcement Alderman Pettigrew stated that the changes would mean a reduction of at least twenty-four hundred dollars in the city revenue.

The council debated two methods of reducing the rate. The first was the one adopted finally while the other was to leave the rate at ten cents and reduce the number of first charge hours from twenty-five to twenty. It was felt that this latter method would fail to benefit the smaller user of electricity and, although the reduction of the rate itself would reduce the city revenue more than a reduction in the hours, this was the method finally adopted as it was felt that the general public would receive greater benefit from it in the long run.

Mayor Jones expressed the hope that the public would justify the cut in the penalty by paying its bills promptly. The idea of the large penalty had been to bring the money into the city treasury when the bills were due. If the smaller penalty failed to do this, the council would have to reconsider its action and possibly revert to the larger penalty.

The electric light system last year had an operating surplus of $27,286.15 while the waterworks operating surplus was $15,443.80.

There has been considerable agitation during the past few years for a more equitable electric light and water rate. The twenty-five percent penalty for late payment of accounts has aroused considerable antagonism and resulted in many citizens advocating that the local public utilities should be placed upon the basis used in many other municipalities where the individual is given a discount for prompt payment rather than charged a penalty for late payment of accounts.

COUNCIL WRITES NEW CONTRACT WITH CITY SCAVENGER

City Engineer Given Control Over Nuisance Grounds—Scavenger Directs Depositing

J. Coupland was reengaged as city scavenger by the council on Monday night but the terms for his contract have been altered. In previous years the scavenger has had complete control of the nuisance grounds and had refused to accept refuse sent there by the city engineer.

The council has naturally taken the stand that the city engineer, being the senior civic employee, should have supervision over all city departments and this year has, accordingly, amended the contract with the scavenger to give the engineer this authority.

Under the new contract the scavenger has full control of the nuisance grounds. He must however accept all refuse sent there with the approval of the city engineer but that refuse must be deposited to the scavenger's satisfaction and under his supervision.

Lamberts and Bings Main Cherries For Fresh Fruit Market This Year

Shippers Agree With Tree Fruits on Details of Cherry Marketing—Royal Annes to be Processed

Faced with a big estimated increase in the 1939 cherry crop despite the condition in this district where there is a heavy drop, Okanagan fruit shippers gathered in Kelowna on Tuesday June 20 to discuss marketing of this year's yield on the fresh fruit market and to the processing and canning plants.

From the discussion, which lasted most of the day, it was decided that Royal Annes would be excluded from the fresh fruit market and will be processed entirely. Republicans, Tartarians, sundry sorts and sweets with the exception of Olivola and Morrells are ruled off all markets and are to be left on the trees, according to the supplementary contract to be signed by the shippers and the B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. Doncons, Windsons and Biggoreans are to be processed only, along with

SMALL INCREASES IN SALARY FOR LOCAL TEACHERS

School Board Continues Policy of Advancements—Praises Window Dressing Displays by Junior High Pupils

Increases of $25 and $50 per year were assured most teachers in the Kelowna schools following the June school board meeting held in the board of trade rooms on Wednesday, June 14. The total amount involved is less than $400 but is in line with the other schools of the Okanagan and brings the Kelowna salaries into line with an agreed plan between Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon school boards. The Kelowna School Board has endeavored to increase salaries slowly so that the ratepayers will not be hit too hard.

Royal Annes. Each variety will have a separate pool and for all processed cherries sold for cash the shippers will be rebated immediately. The balance of the payments will be spread over twelve months if necessary.

Pooling Starts Today

Pooling commences today, Thursday, June 22, and the first pool closes Saturday night, June 24. The second pool closes Wednesday, June 28, and the third pool on July 1st under the single selling agency setup. After that weekly pools will be operated as no great fluctuation in price should be marked.

No 2 cherries will be ruled off the fresh fruit market and only No. 1s will be shipped so that the consumer will be able to purchase the best cherries the Okanagan can offer.

Processing of Lamberts will only be allowed if a cash order is received. Three containers were instanced and weighed out, those being the 4-basket crate at 20 pounds, the display lug at 20 pounds.

Confidence

B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. has during the past two or three weeks been experiencing a trying period. The governors elected by the growers have had no easy task. Many unforeseen difficulties have inevitably cropped up and required careful consideration and judicious decision.

Any person who has watched the deliberations of the board of governors cannot but have been impressed with the manner in which this body has conducted itself. It has evidenced a determination to carry out the wishes of the growers and has indicated a sincerity in the manner in which it has backed up the sales manager it has appointed. The growers may well be proud of this group of men they have elected.

Last week the announcement of the appointment of D. McNair was greeted with quiet satisfaction. Mr. McNair has won a reputation in shipping circles as a "square-shooter" and among growers a confidence enjoyed by few others. During the past ten days he has shown himself to be surprisingly quick at adapting himself to the discomforts and inconveniences which are inherent during the organization of any company and has indicated that he is determined to serve the growers to the best of his ability. His decisions, plans and actions give every promise of justifying the high hopes and confidence which the governors must have had when they selected him for the difficult task he has undertaken.

The past few weeks have demonstrated one point very definitely. The growers have a power in their own hands which is far greater than any legislation which may be put on the statute books. This has been demonstrated by the results subsequent to the B.C.F.G.A. vote when 1729 growers presented a united front. It would be well if the growers remembered this fact—that the power is theirs—and, in remembering, retain confidence in the men they have chosen to conduct the affairs of the grower company, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. If the growers retain this confidence and present a united front, there is every indication that every storm that may come will be weathered until the quiet water of a satisfactory anchorage is attained.

Change In Light Rates

The electric light rate structure in Kelowna is to be revised downwards. Such was the announcement made at the city council meeting on Monday night. The changes, which will come into effect probably in August, provide for a one cent reduction per kilowatt hour on the first twenty five kilowatt hours used for domestic consumption.

For the average household, the cut means a twenty five cents reduction on each month's bill. Not much, but still a reduction and a step in the right direction. The twenty five cents per month will total three dollars per year and looked at from that angle the reduction is a little more gratifying.

Small as the reduction may be to the individual, it is estimated that the city revenues will suffer to the extent of about $2,400.00. That is, of course, unless the reduction results in an increased use of power, and this latter result is no remote possibility. It has been proven in other cities that when the power rates are decreased the consumption is increased and the net result remains about the same, excepting that the consumer is able to enjoy the use of more power for the same amount paid.

The council has also taken a wise step in reducing the amount of the penalty imposed upon those unfortunate who perchance are a little late in paying their account. The twenty five per cent impost that has been in effect in this city smacks a bit of hasty and many claim that, if it were contested, it could not be collected. Be that as it may, it has been collected, although many a citizen now bears the scars of that extraction. The rule has been at times, it has seemed, absurdly and unjustly enforced. However, a rule is a rule and no one has felt able to take issue with the city on the point.

The excessive penalty has, however, over a period of years built up a definite antagonism and the city fathers have shown admirable judgment in removing this contentious point. It is regrettable that they did not lop the whole mouldered branch away in one fell swoop and establish the discount system for prompt payment which is used in most municipalities.

The domestic electric light rates in Kelowna are to be changed. Last year the electric light department had an operating surplus of over $27,000.00 and the waterworks over $15,000.00. The city revenues, through the new reductions, will this year, it is estimated, suffer to the extent of $2,400.00. The consumers of domestic light are to receive this benefit. The city fathers are to be congratulated upon their initiative in making this magnificent reduction.

Pull Your Town Together

This is true about neighbors the world around: you get along with them or you don't get along with them. Sometimes the fact that they are new to the community or that they are of a different race or nationality rears an invisible barrier between you which seems insurmountable. Yet this great wall—since it is one we ourselves build is one which we can break through.

Look at your neighbor—even if he lives on the other side of town. Perhaps his name is unpronounceable, his language incomprehensible, his customs inexplicable, yet he is more like you than he is unlike you. If you hear him sing, or see him dance, or watch him work at his hobby, you will find he has something to contribute to the enrichment of community life. By sharing your cultural heritages, you and he—despite different social or racial backgrounds—can learn to live happily and harmoniously together, eventually helping to develop new and outstanding centres of thought and art.

Civic-minded bodies have done and can do much to bring together different national or racial groups in any community—in the New World or Old World. Members of these groups can become good neighbors, cross each other's thresholds, enjoy each other's fellowship at festivals, programs, exhibits, and can help each other to adjust to social or economic changes affecting them. Differences which once loomed large disappear when people of different backgrounds discover how much they have in common. What they need is a chance to discover this fact for themselves.

Appreciate Value of Newspaper Advertising

Recommending that the institutional advertising appropriation be continued for still another year, the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association recently paid glowing tribute to the value of newspaper advertising.

"It seems unnecessary to dwell upon the advantages that have accrued to the institution of life insurance in Canada from its eighteen years of continuous cooperative advertising," the annual meeting of the Association was told by the committee in charge. "As institutional advertising and publicity has been an invaluable factor in establishing and maintaining public confidence, so its continuation seems to us imperative as a necessary medium to keep policy-holders and the public generally informed concerning the nature of life insurance as a cooperative enterprise and to counteract extreme measures advocated in some quarters and directed against the best interest of our millions of policyholders and beneficiaries."

Over the past year, forty million life insurance messages have appeared in daily and weekly newspapers and financial and farm publications. They have been devoted mainly to emphasizing the financial protection that permanent forms of life insurance provide for dependents and for old age and to stressing the social and economic importance of life insurance to the individual and to the nation.

These advertisements are sponsored cooperatively by a large group of life insurance companies whose business comprises more than 80 per cent of the total insurance in force in Canada. Primarily educational in character, they have appeared in Canadian publications continuously since 1921.

Face and Fill

Another nice thing about devoting your life to the service of others is that you are never out of a job.

Manufacturers should advertise regularly. It is such a comfort to read every week that the one we have is the best.

No wonder conversation is a lost art in this country. You can't converse without somebody who will shut up and listen.

"If you are the average motorist who drives eight thousand miles a year," says an actuary, "you may count on an expectancy of seven hundred years of driving without more than one fatal accident." Usually, one fatal accident is enough.

The post office clock is again lighted. On several occasions during the past few months this column has commented upon the lack of light upon the face of the local Dominion government building. The junior board has also been working towards having the clock re-lighted and the net result has been that once again the cloak of shadows has been lifted from the face of the postoffice. The clock is again illuminated and the lighting scheme of the building is now complemented. It is when lighted that the building presents its most pleasing appearance but this is not attained without the face of the clock being illuminated.

The mayor and aldermen just about collapsed on Monday night when the clerk read one after the other, two letters expressing appreciation of two separate actions of the council. The one came from one of the four pupils whom the council assisted in spending a week in Vancouver in May, while the other was from a fraternal organization complimenting the council upon the condition of the cemetery. It is seldom the council receives a bouquet of any kind and these two letters coming at once was almost too much. For a moment or two, they threatened to disrupt the entire meeting but the aldermen quickly regained their self control and continued with their business.

Gracious Uncle Sam » »

Now that the shouting has ceased and the royal guests have departed, the people of the United States are happy that no even slight untoward incident marred the welcome and the visit of King and Queen. Uncle Sam, as he personifies the millions who are members of his family, is a gracious and thoughtful host. His ways are homely, it may be, but he is sincere and cordial in his welcome. Of this the distinguished visitors must have been assured from the outset. Departing, they carry with them the unforgettable evidences of the love of their American cousins.

Those who have observed the prearranged events of the tour of the visitors south of the Canadian border, from a convenient distance, have been interested most in the incidents imposed by informalities and unscheduled circumstances. It is in these that hosts and observers have discovered the humanities, the responsiveness, the bonds of brotherhood, which bind kindred peoples into one great community. We discover that we have the same hopes, the same desire for a continuance of that freedom of thought and action which is vouchsafed to all.

The visit just ended, it may be, has served to build a little higher and a little stronger the defenses against those influences which could impose themselves upon or destroy the once dual but now combined frontiers of Christianity and Democracy. There is need of this building and strengthening. No one intimates that what has been accomplished could better be done by a political alliance or a defensive and offensive treaty. Today the unwritten code which unites the Dominion of Canada and the United States as effectively includes the British Empire and all its peoples.

Of course the brief visit of the British King and Queen could not alone have brought to realization so important a union of thought and purpose. It is only as a true understanding of the power of right, the impregnable strength of true democracy is gained, that courage and confidence in these is restored. There must be that understanding which places in their proper perspective the boasted hindrance to genuine progress and the destroyers of brotherhood.

No British King has ever before travelled along the vast unguarded boundary which marks an invisible line between Canada, his American Dominion, and the United States. King George has seen the visible evidences of the fact that peoples differently governed politically are actually brothers and sisters of that vast and growing family of a common faith. It is not the allegiance owed and accorded to sovereign potentate, dictator or president which is persuasive or controlling in the hearts of men. We accommodate ourselves to the forms and codes prescribed or agreed to, only that these may receive the respect they deserve, or the respect which convenience dictates.

Perhaps it may be agreed that the human family has not yet learned to govern itself aright. As we look beyond our narrow horizons we may be inclined to agree that it has not. But there are hopeful and reassuring indications that just now, everywhere, there is being gained a better and fuller understanding of true brotherhood.

The coming, the visit, and the departure of the British King and Queen combine, it is hoped, in an incident of supreme and lasting importance. None have learned more than the visitors themselves. Near Canadian brothers and sisters and their American cousins have been found to be their kindred. And now the need is that the circumference of friendship and neighborliness be extended to the ends of the earth. None holds a patent to true nobility because of race, creed, or color. The universality of world citizenship is without limitation or boundary.

Oceans and seas grow narrower. The spoken word goes round the world in a second's time. There is no escape or refuge for those who seek to impose admitted wrongs upon their fellows. The arena in which we all stand as actors or observers is flooded by the white and disclosing light of a better and clearer understanding of man's rights and man's dominion.

Kelowna In Bygone Days

(From the files of the Kelowna Courier)

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, June 17, 1909

The powerhouse boilers have been examined and were found to be uninjured from the recent fire which destroyed the electric light plant.

The Kelowna met with a mishap on Tuesday while towing logs into Kelowna for the mill. One of her shafts broke putting one of the engines out of commission, but she managed to get in under her other engine, aided by propitious weather.

Gore Browne, who arrived a few days ago from England, has purchased the fine residential B. R. Crichton property, with half a mile of lake frontage, extending to 130 acres. He did not intend to acquire any land when he came here, but Mr. Browne fell in love with the delightful situation of Mr. Crichton's property and promptly purchased it.

The city council discussed long and earnestly the subject of motor cars and passed a resolution requesting drivers of motor cars to drive with care and at a speed not over ten miles per hour within the city limits.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, June 10, 1919

A long parade of gaily dressed contentment and decorated vehicles was the commencement of the second annual carnival, last Saturday, which was arranged by numerous committees of Kelowna. The affair was a great success and realized $1,300 for the hospital and G.W.V.A. Five Kelowna children were awarded perfect marks in the baby contest, held in conjunction with the carnival.

The hospital drive committee has issued an interim report showing that $3,200.00 has been raised.

Capt. Eric Hoy may come to the Kelowna Regatta this year. He is known as one of the best stunt flyers in B.C.

Lieut. V. G. Odling, who fell in his plane behind the German lines and was held prisoner for two years has returned to Kelowna. At one time he was held as one of a party of prisoners to be shot as a reprisal in the event of the British executing the crew of a captured Zeppelin.

At a monthly meeting of the board of trade, M. Hecker reported for the lands and transportation committee and stated that he understood the new road from Rutland corner to the Postill ranch was now going to wind around the hills, instead of cutting straight through them. He obtained the sanction of the board to appeal against such a move. Some discussion arose as to the advisability of spending money improving Glenmore roads instead of building new ones. The opinion seemed to be, however, that if the present project was upset the money might not be spent at all and so the suggestion was discarded.

The goal of all ambitious flyers was realized on Sunday when Capt. John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur W. Brown landed at Clifden, Ireland after a non-stop flight from Newfoundland. The flight took 16 hours, 12 minutes.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, June 20, 1929

W. Fraser was named president of the Kelowna branch of the Automobile Club of B.C. at the annual meeting.

Archie Clark Winfield has completed the planning out of about three and one-half miles of a projected road which will extend the existing road from Bonerville's ranch on the east side of the mountain range above Winfield, to Beaver Lake.

Premier S. F. Tolmie pressed a button on Saturday afternoon and put into operation the new Shuswap Falls power plant, supplying Vernon, Armstrong, Enderby, Lumby, Okanagan Landing and Coldstream with current.

THE CITY COUNCIL chambers looked very strange on Monday night. They were unusually crowded. Three spectators sat through the entire evening and, I trust, enjoyed themselves. This was the first time in nearly eighteen months of council reporting that I have seen any citizens exercise their rights and sit in at council meetings. I have reported quite a few councils in my short day and never have I seen as little interest taken in what goes on in municipal affairs as in this city. The city council meetings here are treated as something bordering on a holy of holies. This is reflected in the fact that the junior board civic affairs committee requested . . . requested, mind you . . . permission for its members to attend the council meetings. And the council very graciously consented. Why shouldn't it? Every person has a right to go up there and listen to the council deliberations. And no person need be afraid that something will be said that they should not hear. If anything of that nature comes up, it is quickly referred to committee and that, as far as the public is concerned, is the end of it . . . This doubtless is the reason that the public fails to attend the council meetings. The whole public meeting, about ninety-nine per cent of the time, is routine stuff and uninteresting. The points that need discussion are considered behind closed doors . . . On Monday night it was a change to see those three junior boarders there, but it occurred to me that had the council been really anxious to give the public insight into the workings of the council, the whys, the wherefores and the hows, those three young men, interested enough to attend the meeting, might have been invited inside the rail . . . that rail which separates the common herd, when it does appear for a brief moment, from the sanctum sanctorum . . . and given them chairs among the aldermen so they could see and understand or ask questions about what was going on. But no! Outside the rail they stayed . . . Then, as the extreme gesture of confidence, might it not have been a tactful move to ask them to sit in on the committee meeting which followed. After all they were there to learn and, in Kelowna at least, the real problems are threshed out in committee. But at the end of the council meeting they were told by inference, "That's all, boys. School is out. Run along home!"

A COUPLE OF WEEKS ago I mentioned that I had been checked up by a reader for misreporting the number of strings of pearls the Queen had worn at Revelstoke. Out of the eastern mail the other day came a short note from another editor who had noticed the incident and he enclosed the following which he said he had found to be very useful in a similar instance. His enclosure is quoted just as he submitted it . . . Tired of being ribbed about some trifling errors in his paper a fellow editor once wrote: "We'd be pleased to find a merchant or clerk who never made a mistake in putting up an order, a lawyer who never lost a case through his own errors, a delivery man who never left a parcel at the wrong house, a radio announcer who never mispronounced a word, a singer who never struck a false note, a doctor who never made a mistake, a postoffice employee who never put mail in the wrong box, a woman who never forgot to put salt in when she was cooking, or to put tea in the teapot before putting in the water. Bring in some of your paragons who find it so easy to criticize us. We want to see if they're human!"

POSTMASTERS MUST rustle . . . that was the message given the B.C. section of the Canadian Postmasters association at the convention held a few weeks ago. A departmental official told the assembled postmasters that they could no longer wait behind the counter for business to come to them; they are expected to go out and rustle business in competition with other agencies which compete with the postoffice. The postoffice, it seems, is in competition with the telegraph companies, banks, express agencies, trucking companies and other forms of business. The postoffice, the delegates were told, must go into the business of merchandising . . . The postoffice is one of the government services which commands respect but this new move of going out and rustling business which belongs to private companies is a horse of another color. We have seen the same system work in previous instances. The government sets up a department for service to the public and then that service department, supported by taxes paid by business and business men goes into direct competition with those businesses. The practice smells considerably. And now apparently the postoffice is about to lose its fair and unblemished reputation by stooping to the same practices. We know the government needs all the revenue it can get but, at the same time we object to the principle of taxing a man to support an institution and then having that institution use the taxpayers money to cut directly into his business. That, in effect, is the result of any public body entering the business world. One good example of that is the annual branch of the federal department of insurance. For years it has been selling annuities and going in the red. If I buy insurance part of my premium finds its way to the Dominion treasury through taxes on my insurance company and the annual branch's deficit is made up through a dip into my taxes in the federal treasury. In other words my taxes are taken to pay the branch's operating deficit which it piled up by selling annuities to my neighbor at too low a rate . . . Taint right, says I . . . The CBC is another example. All advertising mediums pay taxes and those taxes are apparently being used to take care of a deficit piled up by a public organization which operates in definite opposition to the taxing agencies . . . The list could be expanded but that is sufficient and now the postoffice is to go out and endeavor to corral all the business now in the hands of the telegraph companies, the banks, the trucking companies, the express organizations and goodness knows what other business firms. It is of such things that antagonism to the public ownership idea is built up.

HEARD A COUPLE of amusing stories the other day. They may not be new but they were new to me and tickled my fancy and, no, I am passing them on . . . It seems that last week a young English lad of no more than eight years of age wandered into the local Safeway store. He vaguely wandered around until he chanced to pass the meat counter where he saw a plate of liver. He stopped and gazed at it in rapt attention for some moments and then asked the clerk, "What is that?" "That is liver," the clerk replied. "What do you do with it?" the youngster asked. "We sell it," came the reply. A look of amazement spread over the young lad's face. "Blimey, what a way to make a living!" he remarked in disgust as he turned away.

THE SECOND STORY concerns that well-known young man, George Handen. It seems that he was in Calgary recently and was killing a few moments doing a little window shopping, when a panhandler came along and made the usual request for a dime to buy a cup of coffee. George said he should be out trying to find a dime for the same purpose. "All it needs is nerve, buddy, just nerve," the panhandler told him, going into a song and dance about the best methods of approach. When he had concluded his little lesson George remarked that it was all very well but he did not have the nerve to do it and he would rather shove first. "All you need is nerve, buddy, but maybe this will help you out," and he dove into his pocket and pulled out two bits which he thrust into the astonished George's hands. George was too flabbergasted to say a word and it is said that now the quarter is framed and hanging in Kelowna . . .

THANK YOU LETTERS NONPLUSSED CITY FATHERS

Two Letters of Appreciation Almost too Much in One Evening

The city council was slightly non-plussed on Monday evening when it received two letters expressing appreciation of its actions.

Miss Rosamund Russell, one of the four students who were sent to Vancouver for a week during the Royal visit, wrote expressing her appreciation of the council's action in assisting the school board to arrange the necessary finances for the trip, while the Orchard City Lodge, I.O.O.F., wrote expressing its appreciation of the condition of the cemetery. The lodge's letter stated that a memorial service had been held on June 11th and following the service the lodge passed a resolution expressing its appreciation of the wonderful condition and beauty of the cemetery.

Wet Weather Sizes Tree Fruits Rapidly As Prospects For Normal Crop Are Indicated In Okanagan

Horticultural News Letter States That All Crops Will be Normal With Exception of Cherries Which Will Show Decrease—Vegetable Crops Show Rapid Growth After Rainfalls—Codling Moth Sprays More Effective

REPORTS from all parts of the Okanagan indicate that the tree fruit crop, with the exception of cherries, is sizing well and a normal crop may be expected from the present setting. Cherries are decreased in number and have not been a satisfactory yield this year. The wet weather of the past three weeks has been conducive to bringing out the size of the fruit, which may not be satisfactory for the export market prospects. Following is the horticultural news letter for the week, issued from the Vernon office:

Salmon Arm, Sorrento and Main Line

As reported June 14th: The weather has been cool during the past two weeks. There have been frequent showers, and some really heavy rains have occurred. While the rains have been beneficial to most crops, conditions for plant growth generally have not been very favourable owing to the unseasonably cool weather. However, soil moisture is now abundant, and with the advent of warmer weather all crops should make rapid growth. Hail fell in part of the Kamloops area on the 5th inst., but although some damage occurred, it fortunately was not of a very serious nature.

The recent rains have somewhat improved the outlook for the strawberry crop. Shipments from Salmon Arm should start next week, and from Clearwater early the following week.

The apple and pear crop prospect is good, and preliminary estimates, though slightly lower in the totals, do not show any very considerable variation from last year. The third spray for scab control has been applied, and while practically no scab is showing so far the recent rains may cause its appearance during the next few weeks. Cherries are a fair crop and are sizing nicely. Prunes promise a heavy crop.

Cool weather has curtailed asparagus shipments from the Kamloops district, and the crop has been poor. Tomatoes and corn have been making slow development owing to the conditions, while other vegetable crops have made fairly satisfactory progress. Cutworms continue to give trouble in all parts of the district.

Armstrong, Vernon, Oyaama, Okanagan Centre and Winfield

As reported June 16th: Since our last report weather conditions have remained cool and showery, and during the past two days precipitation has been quite heavy. There is at present no ill-effects from these conditions excepting possibly to strawberries, and the hay men are very anxious to get cutting and in some places alfalfa is now flattening down. Hot weather crops are developing slowly.

In orchard trees, growth in general and sizing of fruit is rapid. The June drop is not quite complete, but indications in all varieties are for a normal set. Thinning is under way in most areas, and where the Duchess variety was early thinned they are sizing with great speed. The stoning of peaches is just commencing and indications are for heavy yields. The early sweet cherries are ripening, but Bings and Lamberts are not yet showing color. No sign of splitting is yet evident, but the clearing and settling of weather conditions is anxiously hoped for by cherry producers.

In vegetable crops the development of the cool weather varieties is extremely rapid, and such kinds as beets and cabbages will be available in small quantities during the coming week. Early potato fields are in bloom and show good promise. The onion fields have been rather severely punished by cutworms and onion maggot. The hot weather crops are showing slow growth above ground, but the root systems are making splendid development, and a spell of hot weather would induce rapid growth in all such crops. There is a free movement of the lettuce crop from the Armstrong district, and hothouse tomatoes are now going forward in volume.

Orchard and garden pests are quite prevalent in the form of aphids and leaf chewing worms. Control measures for these pests are being carried out. Apple scale has just started to develop but is not showing up to any degree at present. The present weather conditions are causing confusion in the control of codling moth in that the delayed emergence is giving some concern to the growers as to the number of sprays which may be necessary. Excellent spraying records have been the rule up to this point.

In the field crop it has been a long time since such luxuriant growth of both cereals and hay crops has been observed. Full grain is rapidly coming into head and spring pastures are making excellent growth. The pea acreage never looked better. Pastures and ranges have never looked more promising. In general the growth appearance of all crops can be termed excellent. Soil moisture conditions both in orchard and field are now all that could be desired, and bright warm weather is all that is required for rapid growth and the maturing of crops.

As for fruit, June 14th, when the last report weather has been showery and cool. It has been unfavorable for peaches and haying. Tree fruits with the exception of cherries are making excellent growth. Many cherries have turned brown shrivelled up and dropped off. Some are also turning greenish. Even though there is some of this trouble but it is more severe and widespread than usual this year.

Codling moth, proving through the weather has been difficult has been generally done better than in previous years.

Growth of tomatoes, beans and warm weather crops is very slow. Some bean crops, because of a poor stand, have been ploughed in. Vegetable ac-

WINFIELD GARDEN PARTY RECEIVES FAIR ATTENDANCE

Venue Changed to Winfield Hall When Weather Threatens—Couple Move to Vancouver

The Ladies Aid of the Winfield Church changed the place of holding the garden party, from the home of the McDoughs to the Winfield hall, owing to the threatening weather on Friday last. A fair turnout was in attendance and amused themselves during the evening in the pitching of bean bags and quoits. Ice cream and strawberries obtained a ready sale and considerable business went to the sale of work and home cooking tables.

The congregation of the Winfield United Church was favored on Sunday last by the presence of Mrs. Rae Ritchie, of Kelowna, who sang several solos. Mr. John Eley of this place also favored with a solo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shanks left for Vancouver last week. Mr. Shanks has bought out a service station there and will run it himself. We will miss them but wish them success in their new enterprise.

TO PAINT FERRY SIGNS ON STREET

Ferry Directional Signs to Assist Strangers Passing Through the City

Following representation of the junior board the city council on Monday night decided to paint ferry directional signs at intervals along the pavement from the Vernon road to the ferry dock.

Members of the junior board held that the present signs were insufficient and a great deal of annoyance was caused strangers who wandered around the city endeavoring to find the ferry dock.

The city staff will have the signs painted on the pavement about the time the new ferry is ready to run.

« To Poland with Scrap Iron »

By WILLSON WOODSIDE

Gydnia, June, 1939. The good ship "Frederica," 2500 tons net register, 21 days out of Norfolk, Virginia, has finally landed your correspondent at Gydnia, appropriately enough with a cargo of scrap iron to feed the furnaces of war. Fortunately not the slow-moving "Frederica" but the speedy "Yankee Clipper" will be carrying these despatches back to America.

I mightn't mind going on the "Clipper" myself when it comes time to go back home in the fall—though I have no hopes of it! But I have always said, and I say again, that if you have the time there is no way to see the life of the sea like crossing on a tramp freighter. It is just about the same, compared to travelling on a great liner, as taking your summer holiday in a tent or a cottage by the lakeshore compares with spending it in a big tourist hotel.

There are inconveniences and it is dull at times, but you really get in touch with the officers and sailors, you can watch the captain as he plots his course on the charts, take a turn at steering the ship, sit with the wireless operator as he receives the weather and ice reports and talks with other ships, see the log reading as it is recorded every four hours, take the noon-day observation of the sun with the officer on watch, and visit the engineers below. And if all this may seem to some as a description of how to make a Perfect Pest of oneself I can only say that I have crossed with both the Captain and the Chief Engineer on different ships before and was invited back. My simple formula is: when there's trouble, scuttle; and stay scuttled until it has been repaired.

But in spite of all these interests there is a real problem during such a long voyage, of what to do with your time. You may sleep away the first week and read away the second, but eventually you are faced with the question: shall I go to work? It's not such a simple question as it seems—and I protest I am not really lazy! Etiquette is pretty stiff on a Scandinavian ship. The Captain lives in solitary state, not to say solid comfort, in his quarters up forward on the boat deck. He doesn't eat with his officers, and seldom speaks to one of the sailors: orders to the men are transmitted through the Third Officer. The Captain doesn't even work to the extent of taking a watch on the bridge, although he is always there when there is fog, bad weather or narrow straits to pass.

A passenger is the Captain's guest and eats at this exalted personage's table, even in a case where the Captain doesn't like him and wishes he were at the bottom of the sea, as happened to my wife and I on one memorable crossing when we discovered too late that we had been forced on an unwilling Captain by a friendly-meaning shipper. Stiff Danish etiquette forced this Captain, morose and grouchy though he was, to come down to the dining saloon and take his meals with us, however much he, as well as we, would have preferred to eat alone. After forcing himself through the polite forms of waiting for us to come to table and serve ourselves first, he would pass such pleasant remarks as once, when the Atlantic was breaking heavily over our decks and we were about two thousand miles from either shore, to remind us that passengers were last in the lifeboats on a freighter—if there was any room at all for them—and that we had signed a form relieving the company of any responsibility. We weren't invited throughout the whole voyage to place our foot on the upper deck, not to even speak of the bridge, but had to pass our time down on the cargo deck. Luckily we found a fast friend in the Chief Engineer, and learned that all on board shared our feelings concerning the Captain, although they didn't have to share their meals with him. We learned, too, the exciting news that there had actually been open mutiny on board the day before sailing, the engineers and officers threatening to leave the ship if the food weren't improved. We called that crossing "Honcymoon on the Bounty".

What a different crossing it has been on the "Frederica" (that isn't her real name; I shan't give anyone away!) Her Captain is a fine, friendly young fellow, albeit master these ten years and the best money-maker in the company, who likes to have a passenger along for company and to play deck tennis and quarts, and chat over coffee in the evening. The Steward is a dark, dapper man who once lived for several years in Southern Saskatchewan. His speech comes in torrents, and he gets all in a dither if he has two things to think of at once, as often happens, but he puts up the best food I have ever tasted on a freighter and carries in his big refrigerator no less than four kinds of fresh fruit and fifteen kinds of fresh meat and fowl.

The Chief Officer is nearest of the lot to being a character. He has not the slightest trace of humor that I have been able to discover. No older than myself, because I don't speak his rather difficult language he has treated me the whole time, quite unconsciously I am sure, as if I must have an extremely limited intelligence and have things carefully explained to me. But he is a crackerjack of a First Mate, and will make a good Captain I am sure. Husky and a hard worker, one of those black-haired Danes who look more like Spaniards, he keeps his ship gleaming with white paint indoors and out. This may at first seem somewhat foolhardy, considering the cargoes of scrap iron and coal which she gets (and one of the older sailors intimated as much to me in confidence). But the Mate's attitude seemed to be that sailors are better kept busy than in idleness, that if he doesn't mind the work they shouldn't, and that white paint costs no more than any other kind and the water to wash it off is free.

So the "Frederica" sailed into her home port, Copenhagen, the other day glistening as proudly as any "Empress" dressed for a royal passenger. But alas! not to stay, but only to lie at anchor for a couple of hours on the excuse of taking on Danish provisions. The deck of the tubby little scow which brought these out, however, was packed until it looked like the ferry for Malmö with wives and children, fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers. What a row of welcoming faces met them at the ship's rail! A brief visit with the home folks; not much after six months, and then parting again—the lot of the sailor and his family.

Not parting for quite everyone; the Captain, the Steward and the Second Officer had kept their wives on board, and the Captain his little year-old daughter, for the 10-day sojourn in the Baltic. The Captain had intended taking his wife all the way to Alexandria, where the ship is headed next, hoping to get a cargo from there back to England, and the Steward still thinks he is going to have his young German bride with him in the cosy little cabin which he has painted and carpeted and hung with green silk drapes for the occasion. Poor deluded man! The Captain has just told me that it is to be Borneo for copper instead, a 20,000-mile round trip through the Tropics in summer, on which it will be out of the question to take the ladies. The Captain is reconciled from previous disappointments, but we are keeping the news from the Steward a little longer. But I think I feel as badly as any of them at missing such a trip.

Heading across the Baltic in fine weather we took off the hatch covers, ready to discharge our cargo. At first glance you would proudly have said, as I did, "just a rusty junk". But as I passed and looked down at it a number of times it gradually dawned on me that here was an amazing and fascinating study. There, for instance, was the shiny but badly dented hub-cap of a new Chevrolet, possibly a taxi which had got into a jam on New York's busy Fifth Avenue. And there a wheel of a binder, which had cut how many acres of wheat? the carriage of a Remington typewriter which has perhaps pounded out in some newspaper office the whole turbulent story of our time; the broken frame of a cast-iron bed which may have supported a couple of generations of commercial travellers in some small-town hotel. And a tea-kettle, lengths of pipe, auto gears, crankshafts and carburetors, the springs from a chesterfield, and an old-ice-cream refrigerator which took me back to the days when I used to grind away at ours until I thought it would never freeze and would take the top off to taste it.

All these things had had a long, and I hope useful and honest life, and now they were being transported over to a Poland which didn't exist as a free nation when they were made, to be turned into cannon or bullets to fight off the ambitions of a man who was then an obscure and lonely corporal and is now the most dangerous ruler in the world. Life is curious, isn't it?

When experts called for better oils

"RPM" WAS READY!

This NEW KIND of motor oil solves lubrication troubles* in today's tight-fitting engines. Replaces oils, once favored, but now inadequate.

Experts who write the specifications for today's motor cars have found that motor oils, until recently satisfactory, are making trouble in modern engines.

That's natural. In spite of higher prices, these old-type oils, originally designed for lower-speed motors with larger clearances, are inadequate in modern motors with their high engine speeds, more delicate clearances, new metals and new metal finishes. They cause excessive gum, carbon, varnish and other clogging deposits. What is needed is a NEW KIND of lubrication.

We want every motorist to know that the 1939 RPM Motor Oil is a new KIND of oil.

*How oils, until recently satisfactory, are trouble makers in modern motors is proved by a newly completed Repair-Shop Survey, by an independent research company. These experts found that in modern cars brought in for repairs, 77% of the oil-return passages in oil rings are clogged with gum (the first stage in varnish formation), sludge, carbon, and other deposits.

Because our refiners discarded all "old-type" ideas and built a new, $3,500,000 plant; because their engineering skill developed a NEW KIND of motor oil, new from start to finish, "RPM" meets every requirement of new engine design. It won't turn into "varnish" or hard carbon. It will not "break down" under high-temperature operating conditions. Your car gets the same penetrating, correct lubrication at all times. The famous "RPM" "clean engine" quality gives you more power, better mileage, saves much cleaning of valves and pistons, reduces gasoline consumption.

That is what we mean by a NEW KIND of motor oil. It is the reason why today you can operate any motor car, new or old, with greater smoothness, less friction, and more nearly perfect lubrication, using "RPM" than with any other motor oil, regardless of price and regardless of source.

WE BREAK A TRADITION

By tradition, Standard Oil advertising is conservative—it understates the merits of the products advertised. Because this NEW KIND of motor oil, "RPM", is so clearly superior to any old-type oil, we're going to do it full justice—but no more than justice—by saying to you—"RPM" is TODAY'S NO. 1 MOTOR OIL "BUY"!

Sport Gossip

By J. R. A.

It isn't often that a man's work and prowess is given proper credit in his home town. For months past, in fact to two years, Capt. George C. Rose has been endeavoring to cement the rifle associations of different interior towns into a B.C. Interior Rifle Association. His dream bore fruit, however, on June 4, 5 and 6 when 49 riflemen gathered for the first annual shoot under the association's auspices. The Kamloops Sentinel carries the following headline of the event: "Successful B.C.I.R.A. Meet is Credit to Capt. G. C. Rose, its Founder." In the story's lead, the Sentinel continues: "The crowning achievement of a long career as a rifleman reached fruition on Sunday when the first annual shoot of the B.C.I.R.A. took place on the government range at Armstrong and Capt. G. C. Rose, the club founder, had the supreme satisfaction, after two years' endeavor, of welcoming 49 competitors."

Travelling with a ball club has its variations and last Sunday's bus trip to Vernon was no exception. As passengers on the Mission school bus, which conveyed players and supporters, were two Scots from the Trail smelter, out on a holiday. And just to add entertainment for the trip one of the visiting Scots brought along his bagpipes. Do you wonder now that the team lost 14-1.

It was evidently a sad, sad day for Kelowna last Sunday, as both ball clubs received a severe trouncing. At Vernon, where your Gossiper viewed the debacle, there was only one team on the ground and that was Vernon. Baseball, of course, is a peculiar game and its very unpopularity is bewildering. A group of players can trot out one day and play marvellous ball. The next day they can go against the same team and blow up higher than the Empire State building. It is good to get a game like last Sunday out of your system early in the season because then you can settle down to really serious ball. And don't think that Jack Bedford's charges won't do just that.

In the past two weeks the South Okanagan ball loop has undergone many phases. First of all, it appeared that there would be no league when Beaverdell had to fold and Kelowna went into the northern loop. Then Larry Carscadden decided to form a squad and play against Peachland and Rutland. Just as the league was starting, Westbank Indians and Summerland decided they wanted to play. And Westbank town asked permission to throw in their lot. As a consequence, there are six teams in the league and it is going strong. In the schedule published recently in The Courier Advertiser only one Westbank team was shown. That will be the Westbank Indians and the team that was shown as having a bye will play the Westbank town lads. From present indications, Art Gray's Rutland Adanacs should be a cinch in this league this year, but they have a habit of falling down in the final lap. Maybe they will stay in there punching this year.

The Gyros are busy talking stables this week. Charles "Handicapped" Gaddes is at the helm of the strong committee of Gyros who are planning to give the people of Kelowna district their second annual horse race meet on Thursday, July 6. All the horses who compete at the Penticton Dominion Day event and others besides are expected to take part that afternoon, when the feature will of course be the thrilling point-to-point race down Knox Mountain. Those who saw this race last year will remember it was a thriller from the word go and even Vic Delhart couldn't get enthusiastic enough to describe it thoroughly. And if you know Vic that is something.

Another sports event which will take place that week will be the annual tennis week. This year it runs from July 3 to 8 with semi-finals on Thursday and Friday and finals on Saturday. Besides the interior of B.C. championships there will be the B.C. closed championships which are expected to attract the very best tennis players from all parts of the province. It should be a big sports event and well worth attending, for tennis is a fascinating sport which deserves support at a time like this. Your Gossiper will be right in the front row, he hopes, but Jimmy "Bugs" Bardeley the basketball and tennis clown will not be here this year. He will be sailing merrily for sunny Japan to show the Chinese would-be conquerors how the noble game of basketball should be played. Jimmy will probably be interviewing a few Gossiper girls as well in his spare time. Was talking to Tommy Berto's boss the other day but he couldn't say whether Tommy will be back this year. Noticed a picture in the Province the other day of Bruce McLeod bidding Ron Sidaway an embracing farewell, just before his departure for Ontario tennis was. Maybe Bertie will be back again for Kelowna tennis week.

CITY ADDS PROPERTY DAMAGE

The city council has added property damage coverage to the insurance carried by the city fleet of trucks. The public liability coverage has also been increased from $10,000 to $25,000.

Sunday Was Sad Day for Kelowna Ball Clubs---Given Bad Trimming

Vernon Swamps Kelowna 14-1 and Canadians Trimmed by Peachland 22-0

It never rains but it pours. This axiom is accredited to the weather which the Okanagan has been going through in the past month, but last Sunday it could also be attributed to the shower of runs which opposing teams ran up against Kelowna baseball squads. There are two sad men in Kelowna this week and they are Jack Bedford, manager of the Kelowna first string club and Larry Carscadden, who flouts the wonders of his Kelowna Canadians.

At Vernon, in the interior league play, Kelowna bowed low for the first time this season and received a drubbing to the tune of 14-1. While this calamity was occurring, the Canadians were receiving an even worse licking by Peachland who never let up until the scoreboard read 22-0.

Such was the sad, sad story. Jack Smith, No. 1 chucker for the Kelowna ball club, is still nursing a sore arm. Therefore, he declined any pitching duties last Sunday and Rudy Kiebski was awarded mound duties. Rudy started off in nervous style and never did come through. His team-mates were even more jittery than Rudy and never afforded him any support to speak of.

In fact, Manager Bedford tried out some new ideas as to placing of his men and his gamble failed. There was hardly an earned run in the works, and errors played the prominent part in Vernon's win. But on the other hand, Vernon played heads up baseball. Their infield made but one slight slip and George Nuyens had Kelowna batters under control most of the time. His brother, Johnny, on third base, pulled off some spectacular plays and shared infield honors with the bases loaded and one out, but two foul tips to third base spelled the ruination of scoring chances.

In the fourth Vernon added two more on errors by Schlosser and Crawford. Scherle, of Vernon, was caught in a hot box between home and third with the bases loaded. Nearly every member of the Kelowna infield gathered along the line and when Scherle was almost caught Crawford heaved the ball just a little wide and Eddie Kiebski let it go right past him with the result that all the runners came home. J. Nuyens, however, had forgotten to touch second and was counted out. Eddie Kiebski was benched on the play and Bedford went in at first, sending Smith to cover the hot corner.

In the sixth Jack Bedford's errors at first were costly and three more tallies scampered across. In the eighth the debacle was completed with the score being doubled.

Kelowna's lone tally was registered in the seventh when Val Leier was hit on the wrist by a pitched ball. Schlosser ran for him and stole second, coming home on Smith's smart hit to left field.

Peachland's ball team slammed out a 22 to 0 victory over the Kelowna Canadians at the Kelowna Park on Sunday afternoon. While George Ekins pitched a shut out for the winners, two Kelowna pitchers were battered out of the box, Sarkenson being relieved in the second by Watson and he was in turn replaced in the sixth. The eighth inning proved the last straw for the discouraged Canadians, for with six Peachland men up they all came home to score, before they got a man down. Reg. Fulk, the third batter in this inning, made a home run on a fine hit, converting a triple into a homer as the ball chased him around but didn't catch up with him.

From the first ball over the plate, which was converted into a safe hit as Williamson beat out the throw to first until the middle of the eighth when the disconsolate Canadians quit the game before they had their but it was Peachland's game, although a series of costly errors on the part of the Canadians let them score 22 runs on 15 hits in the game. The Canadians made 4 hits and six men got on bases. Sarkenson getting around to third in the seventh inning but the three batters who followed went out in order and he lost his chance to score.

Fulk, Melbaes and Clements all connected for three hits Fulk getting a homer and Clements a triple. Williamson and Guimow made two hits and the two Millers, Archie and Don, one apiece.

CRICKET BOYS AGAIN TRIUMPH OVER MACKIE'S

Game Featured by Hat Trick Performed by Gosse of Vernon--Kelowna Wins Two Innings

Kelowna junior cricketers again triumphed over Mackie's school team from Vernon, this time on the Kelowna grounds on Saturday afternoon. In the first innings, Kelowna rolled up 45 runs while the best Vernon could do was 20 runs. Kelowna went back in and scored another 78 runs, while Vernon had scored 54 for four wickets when rain interrupted the play.

Feature of the game was the bowling of Gosse, who pulled off the hat trick in the first innings. Deans, Hall and Gervers were retired without a run on the first ball thrown in each case. Gosse bowling two and Bell-irving catching the third ball.

Jack Appleton was the only Kelowna batsman to withstand the onslaught of Mackie's bowlers and he contributed 20 runs of the 45. Henry, with five, was the chief Vernon batsman. In the second innings, Gervers and Stiell were the leading scorers, obtaining 28 and 27 runs each.

TRANSFERS BEATEN BUT STILL LEAD TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Adanacs Go Into Second Slot With 11-1 Triumph Over Winfield--Two Games Rained Out

Rain washed out the two Central Okanagan League baseball games scheduled for Thursday last, but on Monday evening the games were played as per schedule, the Rutland Adanacs avenging their previous defeat at the hands of Winfield by trouncing them on the Rutland diamond to the tune of 11-1. The game came close to being a shut out, Winfield's lone tally coming in the seventh inning when Simpson walked in after Williamson drew a base-on-balls with all bases full. Henry Wostrowski pitched a good game for the victors but Williamson, on the mound for the visitors, had an off night. In the third inning the Adanacs piled up 8 runs on a bunch of hits and errors and in the fourth Frank Wostrowski drove out a homer, with two on the bags. Batteries: Winfield, Williamson, Berry and McCarthy; Adanacs, H. Wostrowski and Holisky.

The purpose of the season was to play at Oyania the same evening when the Oyania club blanked the leading Transfer team 5-0. The winners scored all their runs from the offerings of Eddie Kiebski who took over from his brother Rudy in the third. Betsy was in the box for Oyania and the Kelowna batters were unable to hit most of their drives going right into the mitts of waiting Oyania holders. Batteries for the game were:

Transfers: R. Kiebski, E. Kiebski and Crawford; Oyania: Betsy and Polthoven. Only four innings were played due to a late start.

Sailing Craft Makes Lovely Picture in Handicap Race Series

Cliff Renfrew's Stardust is Prominent in Sunday's Races With Fine Weather Appreciated

Last Sunday, the first fine day for weeks, saw an excellent turn-out of boats for the third sailing club race day in the handicap series. Two races were held in light but fairly true breezes, the morning being a straight windward-leeward course over 2 1/2 miles, and the afternoon a four-mile triangle.

Cliff Renfrew's "Stardust" led the fleet in both races, holding her place on corrected time in the first race, but yielding to Arrowhead (Maranda Bros.) and Kittiwake (Dunlop) for a third in the afternoon.

The boats made a pretty picture at the start and at anchor in the bay by the Zdrolik property on the west side. This place is being used by the club for all races as it is about equal distance from Kelowna and the Mission, and gives safe anchorage from strong southerly winds. Mr. Zdorlik has kindly given permission to use the beach.

Arthur Lloyd-Jones' Seagull, now named White Wings, appeared for the first time in an effective color scheme, her hull being a medium dark shade of blue with silver deck. The conservatives think that white is the only color for a boat, others that it can get a bit monotonous. Some of the one design fleets in England and the States are painted every color of the rainbow. The difficulty for a newcomer is to find a color that is not already in use.

The start of the morning race saw an amusing situation, practically the whole fleet, on starboard tack, converged on the weather buoy just as the gun went; in the lead and a few yards from the buoy "Tehani", Pettigrew and Stephens' new boat, got in irons right on the line and squatted there, yet all the boats got by apparently without a single foul or collision. There is a rule about tacking when there is not room to tack. Several people should look it up. The point scoring up to date is: Jane (Goldsmith) 36 1/2, Arrowhead

FINAL TALLY OF GROWERS' VOTE MADE

89.446% Registered Approval of Central Selling—Vote Came From Distant Points

R. G. Rutherford and Co., chartered accountants, who acted as returning officer for the growers' vote on central selling, have just finished their final recapitulation of the ballots.

A number of late ballots have reached the firm since the official count was made and as a matter of interest these have been tabulated. The late ballots resulted in a vote of about the same percentage for the central selling plan as those that arrived before the deadline set. The late ballots for the most part were sent from distant points, including Florida and the British Isles, although some received weeks after the poll closed came from less than half a score of miles from this city.

The final tally showed that 1933 registered growers cast their ballots. Of this number 1,729 or 89.446 percent voted in favor of the suggestions made by the B.C.F.G.A. committee while 204 or 10.554 voted against the suggestions.

CAPT. C. R. BULL ADDRESSES W.I. AT OK. CENTRE

Speaks on Procedure of B.C. Legislature and Visit of King and Queen to Canada

There was a record attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Okanagan Centre Women's Institute held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Macfarlane on June 16th, despite the pouring rain.

The feature of the afternoon was a talk on recent legislation and the visit of the King and Queen by Capt. C. R. Bull, M.L.A. This was much enjoyed by the audience, while many of the points on legislative procedure brought out by the speaker were especially informative.

During the business session a picnic at the Experimental Farm, Summerland, to be held early in July was discussed, final arrangements to be in the hands of the president and secretary.

A sum of $10.00 was voted to the Community Hall association.

Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Lodge were hostesses during the tea hour.

Mrs. Bull, who accompanied her husband was guest of honor.

Mrs. K. Bevan, for several years a resident of England but who recently returned to Canada to reside and who was some years ago a resident of the Okanagan is at present a guest of her sister, Mrs. Caesar.

Miss Welch was a recent visitor with friends in Kamloops.

FARMERS CREDITORS ARRANGEMENT ACT WILL TERMINATE

Official Receiver at Penticton Gives Notice of Closing of Duties on June 30

On Friday, June 30, the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act will cease to function in British Columbia, W. G. Wilkins, Penticton, official receiver, announces to The Courier this week. Any applications to be made in this province by farmers must therefore come before the notice of the official receiver prior to that date in order to receive consideration.

The farmers' creditors arrangement act came into being in 1934 for the purpose of enabling farmers who could not pay their debts and were in danger of losing their land, to keep on farming.

When a farmer found that his indebtedness was beyond his capacity to pay he had the privilege of consulting his local official receiver who called a meeting of the creditors and endeavored to work out an arrangement acceptable to all parties. If they could not agree the question was referred to the provincial board of review, consisting of a judge and two commissioners whose decision was binding on the debtor and all creditors.

in and Miss Margaret Smith were accepted with regret by the school board and the teachers' committee authorized to proceed with the necessary arrangements to fill the vacancies.

The school trustees had special stress on the recent window decorating competition which pupils of the junior high school undertook. Hall a dozen store windows on Bernard Avenue were taken over by the pupils and were decorated with an expertness which bespoke of special training along this line.

"The pupils did a good job," declared Dave Chapman, school board chairman, who explained that the pupils had been trained by Miss Parker, and appreciated the support given by the merchants who had gladly loaned their windows.

The Junior high term is ended this week with a fashion show and display of manual arts crafts on Thursday, June 22, and a graduation party on June 23.

National Forestry Program with Provision for Aiding Fish and Game Culture Prospect for Summer

E. C. Manning Gives Important Announcement to B.C. Fish and Game Delegates at Convention in Kelowna—Dominion Has Recognized Value of Forestry Camps as Tried Out in B.C.—Six Game Commission Projects Are Approved

ANNOUNCEMENT of a national forestry program of work in British Columbia this summer, on a joint basis between the Dominion and provincial authorities, to supplement the annual summer forestry camps of the past four years, was made by E. C. Manning, provincial forester, to the annual convention of the B.C. Fish and Game Protective Association in the I.O.O.F. hall on June 9. Besides forestry extension work, this program will include projects to aid fish and game culture and recreational facilities in the province.

In 1935, the provincial forestry service commenced its summer camps to promote forest development and aid unemployed young men to find work. The Dominion government became enthused with this project and offered assistance, Mr. Manning explained, and out of this campaign the national forestry program has resulted.

As soon as the tentative program was announced, Mr. Manning asked the game commission to submit projects which would expand fish and game facilities in the province. This project was submitted and Mr. Manning announced that he had received a telegram from Hon. A. Wells Gray that morning, stating that the game commissioners' projects had been approved by the province.

Six Projects
These projects are six in number and will take in some 182 young men plus a number of game wardens' assistants, he announced.

"We are hoping to do something really constructive in the conservation of wild life in this province," Mr. Manning declared, stressing the need for broader vision and a greater spirit of cooperation among the sportsmen and sports clubs of B.C., to protect and pass along the great, natural legacy to the coming generations.

Ninety-eight per cent of land in B.C. is non-arable, and thus this province depends on the value of this area for its existence. The moveable and replaceable assets in this 98 per cent must be developed, and at all times the greatest good for the greatest number must be kept in mind, he concluded. On Friday morning, E. G. Rowbottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, dealt briefly with his department's efforts. "In the few hours I spent yesterday and this morning I have been highly impressed with the work you have been trying to accomplish," he declared, and stressed the similarity in work of those endeavoring to protect the wild life of the province and those who are interested in making appeals for tourists.

Licence Increases
Mr. Rowbottom spoke highly of the work of the game commissioners and quoted figures showing the great increase in licences taken out during the past few years. In 1934, fish and game licences brought in to the government $3,193 while in 1938 the licences amounted to $15,723. If the present policy is continued these figures will be trebled many times, he considered.

Game Commissioner F. R. Butler, in addressing the convention, dealt with the recent biennial conference of game officials at Ottawa, at which he was present. The B.C. Game Commission had advocated a longer open season for migratory bird shooting. He had explained at Ottawa that this request was only made after careful consideration of all angles and of the many attempts being made in this province towards conservation.

In B.C. there had been a decided improvement in conditions of migratory birds, game and fur bearing animals, he found. This had been brought about by better control and public education. Unrestricted baiting had been done away with.

"We wish to give our citizens a season they desire and one which will not interfere with conservation efforts," he had told the conference.

Resolutions presented by the game commission to Ottawa included prohibition of the sale of migratory birds except by special permit. The commission opposed the holding of scientific permits selling specimens. It favored seasonal bag limits on migratory birds being effective in every province and state in North America and every effort should be made to enforce the migratory birds act.

Duck Stamp Tax
In Canada he had urged the adoption of a duck stamp or tax provided the money collected in each province is to be used in that province for the propagation of migratory birds. The earlier passing of the migratory game birds' seasons was also advocated.

The commission also wished a thorough investigation of the holders of scientific permits and a more strict check on their licence.

The use of possession of a pump shot gun should be prohibited in Canada without a permanent plug being affixed.

It was thought that the national parks board should operate more banding traps. The Dominion government and the U.S.A. should arrange a careful survey of the migratory birds' breeding grounds to cut down on losses from vermin and to stop depredations by hunters.

Sport Fish Work
Game Commissioner J. G. Cunningham dealt largely with sport fish and the advancement which has been made in this province since the commission was given full authority over sport fish culture and propagation. He spoke of the general education being undertaken for conservation in B.C. and commented on the friendly spirit of cooperation between the game department and the forestry department.

At the luncheon held at the Royal Anne hotel on Friday afternoon, Joe Spurrer was chairman and called upon O. L. Jones, Mayor of Kelowna, who welcomed the visitors and spoke on the

CARRIER MAIL SERVICE IS TURNED DOWN

Post Office Feels Service Here Not Justified at Present—Board to Take Further Action

The Kelowna board of trade has received word from the postoffice department that a carrier delivery service in this city would not be justifiable at this time.

The board for over a year has been pressing for the installation here of a carrier service, advancing as one of the arguments the fact that employment would be provided for some six returned men.

The letter from the post office department in Ottawa states that carrier service is not generally provided in cities of less than ten thousand population and, in addition, that the hours of arrival of mails in Kelowna does not lend itself to satisfactory carrier service.

Countering the two points, the board points out that Kamloops, with less than ten thousand population, has recently been given a carrier service and on Tuesday several board members stated that they failed to understand why mail arriving in this city at two-forty in the afternoon could not be delivered the same day.

The board is contacting other interested bodies and has postponed any further action for one week.

BEAVER-DEE CHAIN DELIGHTS YAKIMA DUO OF ANGLERS

Tell Interesting Experience With Bear and Display 17 Fish That Weighed 100 Pounds

Widespread interest in the fishing possibilities of the Beaver-Dee chain of lakes continues this year despite the lack of suitable weather, and visitors from all parts of the United States have come to Kelowna for a chance to cast a fly in these famed waters. Bookings are heavy over the July 1 to 4 period and a large number of Americans are expected to invade that area.

From Yakima comes a newspaper clipping extolling the wonders of these lakes. Says this clipping:

"Bud Applegate, former Y.M.C.A. physical instructor and now attending the U. of W. law school and Tommy Williams, brought back 17 fish which weighed 100 pounds. And Bob Kahler returned with forty trout running from 10 to 16 inches.

"Veteran fishermen labelled the Applegate-Williams catch one of the two or three finest ever displayed in Yakima. Of the 17 Kamloops which represented only a part of their week's catch, the smallest was three pounds.

"Applegate and Williams did all their fishing in Oyama lake. They used troll plugs and flies and went deep for the fighting Kamloops because the fish weren't rising.

"A big bear gave them their greatest thrill of the excursion. As the two Yakimians were fishing from the shore, the bear came to the water's edge and not getting wind of the fact that he was not alone, started to fish. With one swoop of his paw, he scooped out a big Kamloops, grabbed it between his teeth and started to amble off. Suddenly, he saw the fishermen and after a moment's deliberation dropped the fish and scampered.

"There was not a mark on the fish when the two Yakima fishermen picked it up. They tossed it back into the water and it swam off as though nothing had happened."

need of protection of the forest wealth Henry Castillon, Vancouver sportsman, was a genial speaker, replacing on the program Hon. Gordon Wismer, attorney-general, who was unable to attend. This plea was for united clubs in British Columbia with no discrimination between sections. Mr. Rowbottom also spoke shortly.

In the evening the delegates reported to the Aquatic club for an informal supper and program. The splendid skit staged by W. B. Bredin, Harold Pettman, Len Wade and Bob Hume, entitled "Two Men in a Boat," was one of the features of the evening. This program was arranged by the Kelowna Rod and Gun Club.

Drawing for the three prizes offered at the banquet found two going to the Kamloops and the third to Vancouver. T. I. Blakely, Kamloops, won the first prize, a $25.00 over and under shot gun. Second prize a valuable fishing rod, went to Game Warden R. M. Robertson, Kamloops, while J. B. Hand, George street, Vancouver, won the third prize.

At the luncheon held at the Royal Anne hotel on Friday afternoon, Joe Spurrer was chairman and called upon O. L. Jones, Mayor of Kelowna, who welcomed the visitors and spoke on the

FLYING CLUB IS FORMED IN KELOWNA AREA

Capt. Goldsmith Heads New Group Which Will Promote Aviation in This District

Formation of a flying club for Kelowna was instituted on Friday evening, June 16, when some 30 interested men of this district gathered for this purpose. Promotion of aviation and also ways and means of obtaining active flying instruction are the chief purposes of this organization.

Capt. Goldsmith is the president of the Kelowna Flying Club with G. C. Rennie as vice president and Arthur Lloyd Jones as secretary-treasurer. This group was gathered together with only a week's notice and indicates that there is considerable interest in the promotion of flying in this district. Membership fee for the club was set at twenty-five cents.

Discussion at the meeting was along the lines of finding ways and means of obtaining instruction and to ascertain the cost of maintaining a plane and instructor. The information brought forward by various members was complete and instructive.

Some members had obtained information on the cost of the purchase and maintenance of several types of small aircraft for instruction purposes. Interests other than actual flying in instruction were also discussed. More definite information concerning instruction and fees will be obtained by contact with other club members in the interior and at the coast.

Kamloops has already purchased its instruction plane and has a full time instructor on hand. Fees charged by that club are $200 to equip the pupil with sufficient knowledge and experience in the air to obtain a private pilot's license.

Enthusiasts in Penticton and Oliver have been collaborating in a newly formed club and are endeavoring to finance the purchase of a plane.

The Kelowna Flying Club is open to all those who are interested in aviation and it is expected that many more members will be obtained.

A very enjoyable event took place at the school house on Friday evening last, when nearly seventy friends, gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Loudon, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. When Mr. and Mrs. Loudon arrived at the school they were met by Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hume, who escorted them to chairs which were tied with pink bows, while the wedding march was being played by Mrs. G. H. Mowbray. Rev. G. H. Mowbray acted as chairman for the evening, and after giving a short address, presented the guests of honor with a beautiful eight-day clock. Little Jeanne Henderson presented Mrs. Loudon with a bouquet of roses. Mr. Loudon on behalf of Mrs. Loudon, expressed his appreciation for the kindness of their friends and all sang "For they are jolly good fellows," and three cheers were given, led by Mr. Andrew Ritchie.

A short program followed consisting of two solos "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" by Mrs. R. W. Corner, and two "Will You Remember" and "Because" by Miss Mildred Hume, and piano solos by Rex Marshall.

Refreshments were served and the bride of twenty-five years cut the wedding cake, which centred a table, covered with a beautiful lace cloth. The school was decorated with pink and white streamers and huge bouquets of peonies. Mr. and Mrs. Loudon, who have lived here for the last twenty-one years, received heartfelt congratulations from their friends.

Mrs. Jack Tyler and infant son returned from the hospital on Wednesday of last week.

CITY SHOCKED WITH DEATH OF W. R. THOMSON

Kelowna and district was shocked on Monday evening to hear of the sudden death of one of the most popular Kelowna business men, Walter Russell Thomson, proprietor of the Thomson Motors Ltd., Penderozi street. He was in his 58th year, having been born in Glencoe, Ont., in 1883. Death came to the man who was known far and wide as just plain "Walter," with extreme suddenness. He was attending the theatre on Monday evening when he suffered a heart attack and passed away before he could be removed from the building. Born of a happy nature, Walter Thomson had a happy psychology in anything he ventured. His chief sports were lawn bowling and curling and he was known as one of the most venturesome players in the Valley. No shot was too difficult for Walter to tackle, and he would generally choose the hard shot rather than the obvious one.

A member of the Kelowna Club for years, he was one of the most popular of its members and he mixed with all walks of life with ease.

By trade he was an electrical contractor. He learned his profession as an apprentice with the General Electric in Schenectady, N.Y. In 1913 he moved west to Vancouver, where he was on a number of important structures as an electrical contractor. In 1919 he came to Kelowna and served in his trade until 1925 when he started Thomson Motors Ltd.

He was a member of St. George's Masonic lodge, which will have charge of the funeral service. The service is to be held from the Kelowna Funeral Home parlors this afternoon, Thursday, June 22, at 2.30 o'clock. Interment will be in the Kelowna cemetery, with the following Masons as pallbearers: George Anderson, Charles Gowen, Ron Prosser, Earl Murchison, H. A. Truswell and D. Chapman.

CHAS. HAWES DIES IN 80TH YEAR

Had Resided in Glenmore From 1914 Until Recent Years

A full and active life came to a close on Friday, June 16, in Vancouver when Charles Hawes, 81, former resident of Glenmore for many years, passed away. Funeral services were held from the Kelowna Funeral Home parlors on Tuesday afternoon, June 20, with Rev. W. W. McPherson officiating.

Born in Glouchter, Ont. in 1858, the late Mr. Hawes was in his 80th year. Many years of his life were spent in Regina, Sask. before he came to the Okanagan in 1914. He purchased property in Glenmore and resided there until about four years ago, when he disposed of his property and lived with his son and daughters.

He leaves one son, Chas. Jr., in Kelowna and four daughters, Mrs. Gilbert Gordon, Roselown, Sask.; Mrs. Earl Pettipiece, Yorkton, Sask.; Mrs. Garnett Barlow, Regina, Sask.; and Mrs. Charles Shillingford, Vancouver. Interment was in the Kelowna cemetery with the following pallbearers: officiating, Earl Marchison, Roy Hagg, Dan McMillan, George Mowbray, Dick Stewart and Jim Vint.

CHANGES IN B.C. POLICE

Provincial Police Traffic Officer Ian Secord has resigned his post with the B.C. Police and has moved this week with Mrs. Secord to Vancouver. His post with the motor traffic department attached to this detachment is being taken by Constable Charles Gair, formerly attached to the B.C. Police patrolling Kelowna City. Constable Rob in Kendall of Kamloops has returned to Kelowna to take over Constable Gair's duties. It was announced last week that Constable Gregory, of Vernon, has also joined the local force.

JUNIOR RED CROSS HEARS OF ROCK COLUMNS

Westbank Young People Listen to Address by Mrs. Dave Gellatly on Peculiar Formation on Mt. Boucherie

Members of the Westbank Junior Red Cross, comprising some thirty pupils of Mrs. Pritchard's room at Westbank school, showed keen enthusiasm at their meeting Friday afternoon, June 16, when Mrs. Dave Gellatly gave them a talk on the subject of basaltic columns, which are known to be in various parts of the valley, and include the Keremeos columns, some in the Monashee country and what is to all appearances, a similar formation at Westbank, situated at the northern end of Mount Boucherie, halfway between Westbank and the ferry, where these columns rise to a height of two hundred feet or more.

According to one who has seen both the Keremeos and the Mt. Boucherie columns, the latter is quite as fine a formation, perhaps better, than that at Keremeos. Specimens of these five-sided rocks were shown to the children, some of whom had already visited the spot where the rocks come from, and all were obviously interested in the fact that they are of volcanic origin. Those of the class who have not already seen these columns stated that they intended going to see them at the first opportunity, and this is easy of accomplishment as a recently improved road leads from the highway to the foot of the mountain.

Pictures of both the Keremeos and Mt. Boucherie columns were shown to the class, as well as diagrams showing how these rocks crack in so many places according to the rapidity with which they cool.

Myrtle Hewlett, president of the Junior Red Cross branch at Westbank, conducted the business of the meeting, and Doreen Dobbin moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Gellatly at the close of the talk. Among other things discussed during the business of the meeting, the class decided in favor of voting a sum of money to the crippled children's hospital at Vancouver. Some expressed a wish to use it for a skating rink next winter, but the majority felt that more funds could be raised for that purpose, if necessary.

Select Baseball Club

On Monday evening, June 12, a group of Westbank baseball fans met to form a baseball club, as they wish to enter the valley games this season. As a result of this meeting, S. K. MacKay was the unanimous choice as manager, Frank Jones was made secretary-treasurer, and Jack Garraway will head the committee to arrange a series of entertainments to be held for the purpose of raising funds. John Brown will take care of the transportation. The team journeyed to Rutland to play on Sunday afternoon, June 18, while in the morning the boys were engaged in cleaning up a piece of ground for a diamond.

Joy MacKay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. MacKay is being congratulated on her success in the recent music examinations held in Kelowna, when she passed grade three exams in piano-forte only five marks below distinction. Both Joy and her teacher, Mrs. J. L. Dobbin are particularly pleased as Joy did well last year and then skipped a grade to receive such a good mark.

A whist drive held in the Community hall on Friday evening, and arranged by the newly-formed Westbank baseball club, was attended by some forty players, and an enjoyable evening was served at the close of the game—the entertainment committee making a great hit at this, their first social event. Prize-winners were: ladies' first, Mrs. Mary W. C. MacKay and Dick Young; men's first, Mr. Harry Foster. The club netted some $40.00 as a result of the entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Yulett arrived from England on Monday to visit Mrs. Yulett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Paynter.

ANGLICAN CHURCH WEDDING SCENE OF WIDE INTEREST

Bride and groom were met by a party who were a pink and carried a lovely bouquet of native sweet peas.

The groom, who has been residing at Langley, British Columbia, was a former resident of Kelowna and was accompanied by George Jackson, Cloverdale.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony at the Newson home with relatives and a few close friends in attendance. Following a honeymoon at Banff and Lake Louise, they will make their home in Langley, British Columbia. For the ceremony, Mrs. Warman was attired in a blue redingote ensemble with white accessories, while Mrs.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ROYAL TOUR

56, Lauriston Pl., Edinburgh 3, Editor, Kelowna Courier.
Just a few lines which may interest some people of the affect of the Royal Tour in this country.

In Scotland the average person's knowledge of Canada is, for the most part, a heterogeneous collection of facts and fiction. Some people dismiss the subject of Canada, with a remark or two about "our colonies," some regard her almost a part of the U.S., and the majority produce ideas and questions often humorous, but at the moment, too numerous to mention.

The Royal Tour is at the present moment compelling the people of Great Britain to see Canada and Canadian people in a more satisfactory light. This compulsion is being accomplished by the fact that 90 per cent of Britain's population goes to movies, and every news reel in the country contains shots of the King and Queen, Canadian cities and Canadians. The newspapers also are full of photographs of scenic Canada. A few days ago one of the Edinburgh dailies was half filled with shots of the Fraser Highway, Vancouver Island, Jasper Park, etc. Pictures which in normal times would seldom if ever appear.

The result of this, in my estimation, is that Canada is getting more publicity in a concentrated place than ever before. The warm reception of the King and Queen by the whole of Canada is regarded with admiration and not a little pride. The obvious respect and thoughtfulness of the crowds has made an impression which will fix solidly the fact that Canada is a great and loyal part of the British Empire.

Yours sincerely,
GEORGE PATTERSON

CANADA'S BENEFIT FROM LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE QUOTED

Rev. W. N. Byers, Alliance Secretary Addresses Young People of United Church

How Canadian workers have been benefited by Sunday leisure through action of the Lord's Day Alliance was related by Rev. W. N. Byers, the alliance secretary to the Young People's Society of the United Church, on Sunday evening, June 18, after addressing the evening congregation.

The Magna Charta of leisure in Canada is Sunday, the weekly day of rest, he said. It is the core of civilization's progress. Many instances where employees were enslaved were given and interventions of the Lord's Day Alliance were cited.

The organization helped to introduce and make effective the legislation regarding one day's absence from work in each seven and have striven for half-day holidays also. There is no compulsion in the act on how to spend Sunday, he said, though preference is given to a pleasant, restful, and beneficial day with some time devoted to religious activities by workers and their families.

Mr. Byers invited discussion on Sunday sports. One YPS member remarked that the lack of a holiday during the working week by many persons was a reason for many participating in organized sports on Sunday's. He agreed that having no mid-week half holiday was unfair and allowed no suitable time for sports.

A rebellion in Glace Bay Nova Scotia by 700 employees, especially of stores, who had to work late at night, demanded a regular Wednesday half-holiday and they obtained it.

The L.D.A. is not a smug organization, Mr. Byers said, but instead is concerned about giving hard-worked employees a deserved change every week to relieve the monotony and to be refreshed for the next week.

Canadians can be thankful that in most instances they have a free Sunday and it is up to them to spend it in the most sensible manner for their welfare.

Miss Jean Buttrick group leader introduced and thanked Mr. Byers. After an absence with term at the Victoria Normal School Miss Irene Smith attended the gathering and it welcomed.

Jack Bowering resigned the presidency of the South Okanagan Y.P. Union at the rally at Summerland on June 15, and is succeeded by Colla McKenzie, of Summerland.

Peachland Flower Show Brings

Women's Institute Stages Fine Show With Colorful Exhibits Despite Rain—All Apple Trees in Peachland to be Sprayed at Once or Municipality Will Cut Down

A MOST successful flower show, the first to be held independently in Peachland was held on Friday afternoon in the Peachland athletic hall, with a good attendance and much interest shown in the fine display. This flower show was arranged by the agricultural committee of the Women's Institute, Mrs. J. Cameron, Mrs. P. N. Dorland and Mrs. T. Twinn and followed last year's display at the June meeting of the W.I. as a means of showing the summer flowers and roses. In spite of the wet weather which has been general the flowers were excellent, the roses and antirrhinum or snapdragons being considered particularly fine by R. P. Murray, district horticulturist, of Penticton, who with Mr. Smith judged the flowers.

In officially opening the flower show Reeve B. F. Gummow, who was introduced by Mrs. G. Watt, president of the W. I., praised the initiative of the committee in charge for their work in arranging for the fine display of flowers. He felt that the growth of fine flowers, whether they won a prize or not, left the owner the richer in satisfaction and in a greater beautification of the surroundings.

Mr. Murray spoke briefly and then led the exhibitors from one exhibit to another explaining why prizes were given in some instances and withheld in others. The uniform arrangement of the blooms was stressed in the rose bowl class, as he discussed the various displays. The importance of showing a bloom and not a bud unless the latter was asked for, and the value of fresh flowers in the exhibit were also outlined.

Prize winners were as follows: Roses, best bowl, Mrs. T. Twinn; Mrs. L. B. Fulk; roses, best six blooms named, Mrs. Twinn, Mrs. B. F. Gummow; roses, individual bloom, named, Mrs. G. Lang, Mrs. Twinn; bowl of pansies, Mrs. Twinn; Mrs. G. Dell; centerpiece for table, Mrs. Fulk; Mrs. J. Cameron; columbine Mrs. P. N. Dorland, Mrs. E. A. Baptist; corsage, Mrs. E. Hunt, Mrs. T. Twinn; peonies, Mrs. Dorland, Mrs. Baptist; snapdragons, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. J. H. Wilson; delphinium, Mrs. Twinn; pyrethrum, Mrs. Twinn; Mrs. Ling; iris, Mrs. Twinn; Mrs. Gummow; geranium in bloom, Mrs. Dorland; fern, Mrs. H. E. Trimble; Mrs. L. Trautman; collection of wild growth, Mrs. Fulk, Mrs. Ling.

The sum of $17.40 was taken in at the door and after expenses are paid the balance will be added to the Fall

Fair fund.

Must Spray or Lose Trees

All apple trees in the Peachland district are to be sprayed or cut down at once, it was decided by the council which met for their regular session on Wednesday evening. Letters from J. Tait, Pest Inspector, and W. B. Sanderson, who objected to neighboring orchards which had not been sprayed as a menace, brought this matter to the fore. Two orchards were mentioned by Mr. Tait, one at Trepanier and one on the south side of the district, which were infested last year and had been a source of the spread of the codling moth in the district. Under section 168 of the Municipal Act and the local Bylaw 151 all orchards could be sprayed by the Municipality and the costs assessed against the owner or the trees cut down. Owners of orchards who had not sprayed were to be given 48 hours notice to do so, or action would be taken. A number of odd apple trees through town on vacant lots on road ends were to be cut down immediately.

Baseball Club Grant

John Gummow, secretary-treasurer of the baseball club waited on the council to ask for a grant for the club. In return, the club would fix up the diamond, repair the seats at the park and fix up the netting at the back of the home plate. In discussing the matter, the council agreed to the $25 grant requested, and also arranged to alter the position of the stand pipe from the old line to a place on the new pipe line that water might be available. As the fill over the domestic water line had settled slightly making the ball diamond dangerous where it crossed, it was also decided to fix this up.

Replace Drinking Fountain

Arrangements were made by the council for replacing the drinking fountain which had been placed at the corner of First St. and Beach Drive by the Women's Institute some years ago. With the changing of the domestic water line to the south side of First St., it was decided to put the fountain on the south corner instead of at the north as formerly.

A letter was received from L. Trautman complaining that a leak in the domestic water line had killed a peach tree on his property, and Councillor J. H. Wilson agreed to investigate this matter.

Councillor F. Kinchin was questioned by Councillors Eddy and Chidley regarding the shutting off of lights for those in arrears, and he explained that arrangements had been made for this to be done June 16, unless substantial payments were made before that date.

Reeve B. F. Gummow reported that due to the falling away of the flow he had been notified by phone Saturday night that the water was not sufficient to keep the electric light plant running. He had immediately made arrangements to have the gate closed which had been left open during the flood water period to allow the dam to keep itself clear of rubbish.

Revision of Schedule

Suggestions were made about revision of the schedule for the power plant as the lights were coming on too late in the evening during dull weather. A resolution was passed setting the time for no later than 6.45.

The feeding of transients was the subject of some discussion, and the fact that no government aid was received for the 20c given to transients passing through the municipality came in for forceful comment. It was decided to petition for government assistance in this business, which amounted to about $25 per year.

Criticism was voiced about the steps at the post office, which were considered dangerous, but as they were the property of the owner, and not the municipality no action could be taken other than to make formal protest regarding their condition.

D. K. Penfold, district engineer of the water rights branch at Kelowna, paid a visit to the headwaters of the Peachland irrigation system and Brenda and Penfold lakes last week. He was accompanied by J. H. Wilson and H. MacNeill.

The Women's Association of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. T. Reddick on Wednesday afternoon. Tea was served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. J. Ling.

Mrs. A. E. Elliott and Mrs. M. K. Kitch returned home on Saturday after a six weeks' trip to California by motor.

Mrs. D. B. McClements and Mrs. David Stewart, of Summerland, were visitors in town for several days last week.

Mrs. A. Burdick returned to her home here on Thursday June 15 after a three months' trip to England.

G. Watt has returned to his home here after spending four months at the Shoughwenny Military Hospital at Vancouver.

High Scores at Rifle Range Last Sunday—Conway Also Clicks at 600 Yards

Under an overcast sky that boded rain but failed to carry out the threat, fourteen riflemen enjoyed excellent conditions for the weekly practice at the Glenmore range on Sunday up to the 600 yards distance, when the light failed somewhat and created some difficulty.

At 200 yards, G. N. Kennedy, who has missed the possible by a lone point several times this season at the short distance and at 500 yards, achieved his ambition and, starting with two inners for sighters, put on a straight run of seven bulls for score. A. Garner ran up a nice 33, G. A. Wyman and W. E. Harmeling registered 32 each and G. C. Rose 31.

At 500 yards, G. W. Hammond, J. R. Conway and Mrs. K. Harmeling all tallied 32, Garner and Wyman scored 31 and Kennedy 30.

Another rifeman achieved his ambition when Capt. Conway defeated his deadly enemy, the 600 yards distance, by running up a clinching 33, consisting of two inners at the start and a string of five bulls. Mrs. Harmeling put on 31 and Kennedy and D. E. McLennan 30 each.

Two sighting shots and seven shots on score at 200, 500 and 600 yards. G. N. Kennedy, 35, 30, 30—95; Capt. J. R. Conway, 29, 32, 39—94; Mrs. K. Harmeling, 29, 32, 31—92; A. Garner, 28, 31, 28—87; G. A. Wyman, 32, 31, 28—91; W. E. Harmeling, 32, 28, 29—89; D. E. McLennan, 29, 28, 30—87; G. W. Hammond, 27, 32, 27—86; G. C. Rose, 31, 29, 26—86; W. Ritchie, 21, 21, 28—70; P. Gravel, 16, 25, 26—67; L. Renals, 21, 23, 22—66.

Kamloops Shoot, July 9

The annual shoot of the Rocky Mountain Rangers Rifle Association will be held at Kamloops on Sunday, July 9th. Its chief feature will be the team competition for the City of Kamloops Shield, which was held by Kelowna for two years and later by Summerland, but returned to its native city several years ago and its guardians have since put up an unbreakable defence. It is expected that Kelowna will send at least one five-man team and possibly two to Kamloops, and it is understood that Summerland-Penticton and Vernon also will be represented.

MISSION ENJOYS PAPER-CHASE

Eighteen Riders Participate in Novel Event

A field of eighteen riders, including a number from Kelowna, turned out on Sunday afternoon for a paper-chase organized by John Acland and Bob Browne-Clayton, who rode as hares. The start was made at 2 p.m. from the cross-roads by the Bartholomew place, where a number of spectators gathered and the trail followed a wide circle through Crawford's and Sawmill creek basin. Mrs. John Acland and Peter Mallam were first home of a field that thoroughly enjoyed a good chase.

On Tuesday, June 13, a garden party was held at Sherborne Ranch for members of the ladies gull and many from Kelowna, East Kelowna and Rutland. Mrs. B. T. Haverfield and Mrs. A. F. Painter were joint hostesses. Mrs. C. R. Bull was the winner of a toilet leather purse, made by Miss Isabel Wadsworth, which was raffled during the afternoon. Tickets sold netted $10 for the funds of the Gull.

About a hundred and fifty people attended the dance held on June 16 at the community hall. Profits from this dance will help considerably the reserve fund for the pumping plant which the association hopes to install in cooperation with the tennis and skating clubs.

A very large proportion of the best crop of alfalfa has been completely spoiled by the persistent rains of the past fortnight, which have also done much damage to local strawberries.

Miss Ellen Osborne-Smith, who has been the guest of Mrs. D. T. Haverfield for several days, left for Vernon last Thursday on a visit to friends in that district before returning to the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Marchbanks and son arrived last week from Vancouver on a visit to Mrs. Fuller in Okanagan Mission.

Selection Of Proper Youths By Employer Most Important To Success Of Apprenticeship Act

Hamilton Crisford Proves Interesting Speaker on Subject of Importance to All Parts of Province—Speaks to Kelowna Board of Trade Monthly Dinner Meeting—Allows for Increases in Salary Every Six Months

EXPLAINING the workings of the apprenticeship act and the requirements for young men and women under the minimum wage acts, Hamilton Crisford proved one of the most interesting speakers to come before the Kelowna Board of Trade monthly meeting in some time. He spoke on this intricate subject and answered innumerable questions at the dinner meeting held on Friday, June 16, at the Royal Anne hotel.

"The day is long since past when a lad of tender years can be signed up over a long period and at an extremely low wage," declared Mr. Crisford, in explaining that all apprenticeship contracts have a beginning wage and allow for increases every six months. "Every employee should give most thought to selection and see that the apprentice takes an interest in his work, otherwise he will not be worth his bi-yearly increases. One-third of the apprentices in B.C. are obtaining more wages than their contracts call for."

Need Continuity
Mr. Crisford explained that in B.C. it is quite impracticable to keep an apprentice working when there is no employment available. But before contracts are approved and signed the continuity of employment must be checked to determine if the employer can meet requirements.

More is expected of an apprentice today, as he is older and has better education. He is expected to earn what he gets and he generally does. Mr. Crisford declared. The apprentice should interest himself in his work, in the origin of the materials with which he works, and the competition which is aroused in sale of the article.

"The apprentice should regard his work as a great avenue of success and we find that many who graduate from technical schools can lay out work for journeymen. Such apprentices will be the greatest asset to their employer and the trade in general.

"There are more than 800 apprentices in 50 trades in B.C. Of this number, 650 are under the apprenticeship act and the balance under the minimum wage act, with a few exceptions such as gardeners, who are on a voluntary basis. Over 100 boys and girls have already finished their apprenticeship and every one has found a position. Since the act was started, only 60 contracts have been cancelled and most of the principals in these cancellations have transferred into the navy or air force.

Skilled Labor

"There has been the odd case of the unsuitable employer but to date there have only been three found in Vancouver. If the province is to maintain its standard of living, our young people should be given an opportunity to reach the top," he declared, stressing the point that so many persons have brought in skilled labor from outside sources.

"But apprentices are not suitable to all occupations so provision has been established under the minimum wage acts, the approval of the Board of Industrial Relations being necessary in such cases. It is a general rule that any occupation which can give two or more years training is suitable for the apprenticeship system.

"If the apprentice adopts the right attitude to work then he can get ahead. We must produce more than semi-skilled mechanics for we must produce the best in skill and workmanship to compete in the world today."

Mr. Crisford stated that there are 74 privately owned schools covering 35 occupations in B.C. Of these, 55 are practical schools and 19 correspondence. High pressure salesmanship of useless courses have been curtailed under the trades school regulation act which came into being in 1937. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been taken from parents and students, mostly from correspondence schools across the line, which have been wasted. Correspondence schools cannot operate in B.C. now without posting a bond of $1,000 for good behavior.

Misleading and exaggerated advertising in connection with such schools is being curbed and the U.S. authorities are making a similar drive to keep such advertising within the bounds of reason.

"This act has done a wonderful lot of good for it has protected the student and parent from exploitation and has given the student if he finds the courses of study unsuitable the opportunity to give them up. Correspondence courses are now a tightly framed and the government has a number of simple courses which provide a background and allow the student the chance to estimate if he wishes to continue further along any particular line. But by themselves correspondence courses seldom lead to employment," he concluded.

Numerous questions were asked by the meeting and it was determined that a pupil should have junior matriculation standing before entering apprenticeship although the starting age can be 16 years. The general apprenticeship period is from five years.

The apprenticeship is not confined to dull low grade pupils or under the system they will not progress," he continued. In answer to a question that the system seems to close the door to any but the bright students, Mr. Crisford replied as before that "we don't prevent anybody from entering this system, but most of our trouble comes from the dull low grade pupils."

CITY CONTINUES MOSQUITO CONTROL

Heavy Rains Favor Large Hatch in Near Future—Assist Work in Glenmore

Approval of the results of the mosquito control efforts by the city and Glenmore were voiced by Alderman Hughes-Games and His Worship the Mayor on Monday night at the city council meeting.

His Worship pointed out that despite the heavy rains and the favorable weather for mosquito breeding, the mosquitoes had been very scarce this year. It was unfortunate however that the prospect was not too bright for the immediate future as a large second batch was about to be hatched and there was so much moisture that it would probably be a very large one and very hard to control. The large sloughs were being checked and the movement watched. Alderman Hughes-Games felt that everything possible should be done to have as complete control as possible and that Glenmore should be contacted with a view of further close cooperation.

The fifty dollars which the council decided last March to grant to Glenmore for mosquito control work was authorized to be paid and an instruction was made that perhaps further support for the control of Schleppe's and McKay's sloughs might be forthcoming.

YOUR EXECUTOR MAY BE TOO ILL TO ATTEND TO YOUR ESTATE

If you appoint a private executor you can never be sure that illness will not seriously interfere with his administration of your estate. Delays might result which would prove costly and tie up trust funds needed for the support of your family.

In addition to this should your executor die it is quite possible that his duties would be assumed by a total stranger whom you would never have appointed to control your property.

The proper way to avoid such eventualities is to appoint Okanagan Loan & Investment Trust Company as executor under your Will. In this way you ensure continuity of administration, unrestricted by absence, illness or death. Officers of this Company are always available to attend to your estate, safeguard your assets and see that your wishes will be carried out faithfully and sympathetically.

For your own peace of mind and that of your family, decide now to investigate the advantages of the Trust Company's services, the fee for which is no greater than that allowed by the courts to a private trustee.

Court Refuses Staples' Request To Commit Harris On Contempt

Court Holds Vernon News Editorial Not Written to Influence Jurors

On Thursday morning of last week, June 15, Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson dismissed with costs the contempt of court proceedings brought against W. S. Harris, publisher of The Vernon News, by R. B. Staples. The latter was ordered to pay the costs of the whole action.

In handing down his decision, Mr. Justice Robertson said that he did not think the editorial in The Vernon News of May 11, 1939, which had been complained of in the application, showed contempt. Furthermore, the editorial of April 27, also complained of, was not "calculated really to interfere with a fair trial of the action," according to the judgment.

The application asked that the publisher be committed to prison for these editorials in question, which were in connection with the libel case brought against Messrs. Harris and D. Godfrey Isaacs, of Oyma, as an aftermath of the allegations that a jobber-shopper combine exists in the Okanagan.

Hearing of the contempt of court case was at Vancouver on Friday, June 2, when a decision was reserved. T. G. Norris, K.C., was counsel for Mr. Harris while Alfred Bull, K.C., argued for the application.

The reasons for judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson were handed down as follows:

This is a motion to commit the defendant Harris, the publisher of The Vernon News, for contempt of court in publishing or causing to be published, as Editorials in that paper, on the 27th April, 1939 and 11th May, 1939, "words obstructing or tending to obstruct the administration of Justice or calculated to prejudice the Plaintiff in the fair trial of this action."

The plaintiff commenced this action on the 20th April, 1939, in the Kelowna Registry in the County of Yale, complaining of an alleged libel by the defendants in the month of August, 1938. A statement of Claim was served with the writ in which the plaintiff set forth the words of which I need not repeat here. The innuendo alleged is as follows:

(6) The said words set forth in paragraphs 3, 4, and 5 above meant and were understood to mean that the Plaintiff in the conduct of his business as a shipper of fruit and therein as an agent for fruit growers, for his own advantage and profit, or for the advantage or profit of the company or companies of which he is an officer, had acted in a grossly corrupt manner and had failed in his duty to fruit growers for whom he or his company or companies was or were acting as agent, in that he had permitted and connived at dishonest and improper practices whereby the said growers were forced to accept a price for their fruit below that which they would have obtained and thereby was guilty of a criminal offence.

The statement of claim fixes the place of trial at Kamloops in the County of Yale. The defendants' application to set aside the service of the writ was dismissed. The defendants then served notice of appeal. By arrangement the appeals were abandoned and were dismissed on the 8th May. It was a term of the dismissal of the appeals that the trial of the action should not take place until after vacation. The Assizes in Kamloops are usually held about October or November so the trial cannot come on for some three or four months.

I do not think the Editorial in the issue of the 11th May, 1939 shows contempt. The Editorials of the 27th April stated that The Vernon News and other papers had published the article complained of, eight months ago that, subsequently, after a commissioner was appointed under the Companies Act and it was expected his report would be made shortly; and that now the plaintiff takes action. It then refers to the paragraphs in the statement of claim (which it stated could be read in another column of that issue) in which the libel complained of is set forth, and then proceeded:

"It is a fair comment to make that it is not until eight months after the charges were first sounded and then echoed and re-echoed across Canada. Roy Baird Staples should discover that he was being brought into hatred and contempt thereby."

Why then are the charges being brought at this time? Opportunities are afforded Mr. Staples to publicly deny them from the start. He replied by supporting the application for the Combines Investigation. Why does he not wait the results of that investigation and why does he wait all this time before entering a libel action? Has he been asleep and did not know what was afoot?

Why is the publisher of this newspaper, charged out and an action entered against him personally?

"Was he not discharging his duty as a publisher to give publicity to charges of conduct which affect the welfare of the whole of the fruit growing area? Could he do less and hold his head up among his fellows? Publication of the charges meant loss of friendship, loss of business, and was justifiable only on the grounds that the report was a fair one, and was published in the interests of the public good."

In the action taken against publisher Harris rather than against The Vernon News because it is hoped to distinguish on the matter of privilege between the publisher and the reporter? Is the latter to be penalized for serving his newspaper, and through it the great mass of the people?

Is it not logical to ask at this time why is it that the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association, which circulated these charges, amongst its membership, and the British Columbia newspapers, are not among the co-defendants?

It is significant that while some seven persons and companies were charged as being members of an illegal combine, neither the jobbing interests nor any company or person other than Mr. Staples has seen fit to take action in the Courts.

If the writ is issued as a matter of intimidation it will fail of its purpose. The implications of this action are far-reaching. They are the business of every man and woman who directly or indirectly makes his or her living through the operations of the fruit industry and is interested in our much prized freedom.

I desire to refer to several cases which lay down the principles which should govern the Court in an application of this sort. In Rex vs. Payne and Cooper, (1896) 1 Q.B. 577, Lord Russell, C.J., said at Page 580:

"But I wish to express the view which I entertain, that applications of this nature have in many cases gone too far. No doubt the power which the Court possesses in such cases is a salutary power, and it ought to be exercised in cases where there is real contempt, but only where there are serious grounds for its exercise. Every libel on a person about to be tried is not necessarily a contempt of Court; but the applicant must show that something has been published which either is clearly intended or at least is calculated, to prejudice a trial which is pending."

and at 581 he quotes with approval what Cotton said in Hunt vs. Clarke, 58, Q.B. 490, a case in which an application to commit for contempt was made, as follows:

"I apply and adopt as the principle which ought to regulate these applications—that there should be no such application made unless the thing done is of such a nature as to require the arbitrary and summary interference of the Court in order to enable Justice to be duly and properly administered without any interruption or interference, that is what we have to consider, and in my opinion, although, as I say, there is here that which is technically a contempt, and may be such a contempt as to be of a serious nature, I cannot think there is any such interference, or any such fear of any such interference, with the due conduct of this action, or any such interference, with the due conduct of this action, or any such prejudice to the defendant who is applying here, as to justify the Court in interfering by this summary and arbitrary process."

Wright, J., agreed with Lord Russell and said (Page 581):

"I agree with all that the Lord Chief Justice has said, and I only wish to add that, in my opinion, in order to justify an application to the Court the publication complained of must be calculated really to interfere with a fair trial, and, if this is not the case, the question does not arise whether the publication is so objectionable in its terms as to call for the interference of the Court. If the publication is found to be likely to interfere with a fair trial, a second question arises, whether, under the circumstances of the case, the jurisdiction which the Court in that case possesses ought to be exercised, not so much for punishment as for preventing similar conduct in the future. That is the rule which I wish to adopt with regard to applications of this nature."

See also Gaskell and Chambers Limited ex parte (1936) 2 K.B. 595, where the above quotations from Payne and Cooper were approved.

Applying these principles I am of the opinion that under the circumstances of this case, the article complained of is not "calculated really to interfere with a fair trial of the action." I must consider the position as of the 27th April, 1939 when the Editorial was published. At that time it was not known when the trial would take place. The earliest date would be at the Assizes at Kamloops commencing June 5th—that is about six weeks after the publication. In view, however, of the matter in dispute it is quite unlikely that the trial would have taken place so soon, in which case it would not have come on until the Autumn Assizes, which were fixed in January of this year to commence on the 6th of November, 1939. Under these circumstances I think the language of Boyd, C., in Guest vs. Knowles, (1908) 17 O.L.R. 416 at 424, is most appropriate. After referring to what Lord Morris, speaking for the Judicial Committee, in McLeod vs. St. Aubyn (1899) Appeal Case 549, said, at Page 561, viz. "commitment for contempt of Court is a weapon to be used sparingly, and always with reference to the interests of the administration of justice"; and that "it is a summary process and should be used only from a sense of duty and under the pressure of public necessity," said as follows:

"These two articles published touching an election controversy, long before the civil action can be ready for trial, are at best ephemeral products, serviceable, it may be, for the occasion, but once read on the day of issue are quickly forgotten. Giving jurymen of whatever stripe of politics, credit for ordinary intelligence and average honesty, it cannot be supposed that any one would cherish these comments in his mind for months afterwards, or that any such permanent impression would be made upon the mind as would cause one to disregard the instructions of the Judge, undervalue the sworn testimony of the witnesses, and swerve from his sworn duty to decide according to the evience, upon the merits of the case." This motion invokes the strong arm of the Court to put forth its extreme power of imprisonment. It is an application of serious moment, and it should rest upon clear and sufficient evidence manifest in or fairly to be inferred from the impeached articles, that the offence has been committed, as to an interference or attempted interference with the ordinary course of justice in the matter of a fair trial.

The application must be dismissed with costs.

REPAIRING FLAGS

The city council assured the junior board on Monday night that the street flags were already being repaired after some had been torn during the recent period when they were on the streets. The junior board suggested that this action should be taken but the council had already anticipated the request and the flags were now at a taylor shop.

Life without some necessity for exertion must ever lack real interest.

John Richard James Stirling

His official title is John Richard James Stirling, but to all and sundry in the Kelowna district he is known as just plain Jock. He comes within the scope of our Spotlight this week because of his ascendancy to the post of president of two sportsmen's organizations, the Kelowna Rod and Gun Club and the B.C. Fish and Game Protective Association.

A tall, rangy, wiry man, he has sandy hair which is becoming thin on top. His face is lean and given the proper habit he might be taken for one of those picturesque cowboys just off the range. He is an energetic man and has a quick manner of speaking in direct relations to his physical actions. By the way, we almost forgot his typical green turtle-neck sweater.

In fact, Jock Stirling is a keen man and his overpowering enthusiasm stands him in good stead in any project he undertakes. At present he is looking for a secretary for his B.C. sportsmen's association and knowing that he is inclined to act on the primary inclination, he is looking for someone who goes at a slower rate and thinks things over deeply before acting.

It was on July 27, 1892 that John Richard James came into this world at Enford, Wiltshire, England, but shortly afterwards his family moved to Bridge-of-Allan, Stirlingshire, Scotland, and he grew up there and in the north of Ireland, County Down.

His schooling commenced in a preparatory school, Stanley House, and later he went to Uppington Public School in England. His life was one of comparative luxury as his family was well-to-do and before he came to Canada he had never even had to unpack his belongings or fold his trousers.

But in 1910 he came to Kelowna, primarily because of the presence here of his cousin, the late T. W. Stirling, who was one of the pioneers who helped to build Kelowna and district. He had intended to try his luck in the Argentine, but his family wished him to come to the colonies first. He was a green, English boy of 18 who, to use his own expression, "did not know how to boil water." He was placed under an ex-navy man to learn some of the arts of farming, but they could not agree, and he worked for a time with Max Jenkins and on a survey gang before purchasing his present orchard in East Kelowna.

It was bush country wild and untamed when Jock Stirling first set to work to clear a ranch-site but today he has one of the finest homes and certainly one of the finest gardens in the Okanagan Valley. Since purchasing that property he has never been employed in any other line of endeavor, other than fruit farming.

In 1912, his parents and two sisters arrived from the Old Country, but Jock to the Old Country in the fall of 1914, after the outbreak of war. Jock tried to enlist with the B.C. Hussars but was turned down on account of a heart condition. In the Old Country the following year he tried again but failed. He returned to Canada and in 1917 he was finally accepted in an artillery unit in Vancouver. He saw more than a year of service overseas, but like so many returned men he glosses over any account of this section of his life.

In his early days rugby was his favorite sport but soon riding and fishing and hunting became his weaknesses. He can recall many a thrilling chariot ride in which he participated during the fall fairs here, and of one in particular, racing against Felix Casorso when there was a good-sized side wager.

During public school days he was on Pppington's team at Bisle competing for the Ashburton Shield, an old wooden shield which has been the pride and joy of many a British public school when it adorned its walls. It has been in competition for well over a hundred years.

He has always been a fine shot while hunting, and fishing has been another ardent pastime for many years, so that he is really a practical man to hold down the post of president of the two sportsmen's associations.

Another favorite sport is curling and his rink was the last to hold the Fintny cup last winter.

In reminiscing about past days in the Kelowna district, he remembers the excitement which occurred every afternoon on the boat docked at the C.P.R. wharf at the foot of Bernard avenue. Everyone would run down to the wharf to see the boat land and watch the passengers on board with careful scrutiny to see if any could be identified. The arrival of the "Okanagan," succeeding the "Aberdeen" was one of the historical events of the early days of Kelowna.

Jock Stirling feels that if some of the oldtimers could really set down an authentic account of the history of the Okanagan, which would include all phases, then a great good would be accomplished.

It was on November 6, 1919 that Jock Stirling married Kathleen Greene, daughter of the late Archdeacon Greene. Three children have been born of this union, being, Peter, John and Moyra.

The only club with which Mr. Stirling affiliated himself in the past was the Gyro Club of Kelowna. He is a member of the Anglican church, but does not belong to any fraternal organization. His lovely garden is his main hobby and he is justly proud of its beauty.

That garden is one of his real pride and joys, and to roam through it one realizes instantly just why he is so proud. It is the culmination of nearly twenty years' work and was not rushed through in any single year. The rockeries, the pools where eastern Brook trout and goldfish swim, the

Hon. Grote Stirling Expects Federal Election to be Held Late This Year

Member for Yale Returns to Kelowna Marvelling at Great Importance to Canada of Their Majesties' Visit

"It is my own personal opinion that the federal election will take place this fall," declared Hon. Grote Stirling, M.P. for Yale in the course of an interview with The Courier, following his return to Kelowna on Friday, June 9. "Of course, it remains a secret with the Prime Minister, but general opinion is that on August 9, when he celebrates his twenty years as leader of the Liberal party, he will show his hand."

Hon. Stirling chatted on numerous subjects, reviewed the most important sections of the session which prorogued on June 3, and expressed his interest on local problems by asking numerous questions regarding the Okanagan fruit situation, and other matters.

Report Not Ready For Weeks

Just before he left Ottawa, Hon. Stirling was in touch with Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, who stated that the McGregor report on the charges of Godfrey Isaacs, Oyama fruit grower, that a combine existed between Valley shipping and prairie jobbing interests, could not be expected for some weeks yet. This means that the long-awaited McGregor report will not be brought down before July at the earliest.

Of the session of Parliament, he stated that it was not as long as last year, but so much important work developed in committee that it was difficult to keep abreast of it and the sittings of the House.

Among the most important of committee sessions was that which considered amendments to the Dominion Elections Act. Although the committee considered these proposals at great length and brought down a report to the house, it eventually did not proceed with passing of any changes. Some persons believe that the election will be delayed because of the non-passage of these amendments, but Mr. Stirling is not of this opinion.

Banking and Commerce committee was another which entailed heavy work, although no report was brought down, other than a recommendation to further sittings of the house to continue investigation. The annual report of the Bank of Canada was submitted to this committee and Graham Towers, bank governor, was the chief witness. Hon. Stirling expressed a great admiration for the ability of Mr. Towers who proved a fine witness, despite the length of the proceedings.

Cat and Dog Fight

Hon. Grote Stirling touched lightly on the Bren gun contract probe in public accounts but it appeared that his private opinion of the enquiry might be characterized as a "cat and dog fight." Little, if any evidence was revealed other than that submitted to the Davis committee, and the member for Yale doubted if any further investigation will accrue.

Asked by The Courier regarding the defence program, as outlined by Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Hon. Stirling replied that the present minister of national splendid little stream which runs down from the irrigation ditch, the bed of which was created from rocks and cement, the many and varied shrubs, vines, flowers and trees are silent proof of many, many years of work and planning.

A visitor to his garden once told him that it indicated he is a restless man. It is true, for his Irish ancestry, which is predominant, tells him to rush forward while his Scottish blood holds him back. But the planning of his garden does not only reveal restlessness, but also indicates considerable patience.

Record Of Some Kind
David G. Young believes he holds the commuting record for Scotland. For nearly 51 years he has travelled 33 miles from his home in Bridge of Allan to Glasgow and back again six days a week, 50 weeks a year. This makes a yearly mileage of 10,800 and a grand total of 1,001,880 miles. And he never missed his train.

While in Ottawa he received several hundred cards signed by persons from the Yale riding, urging that an embargo be placed on war materials being shipped from Canada to aggressor nations, and insinuating that his reactions to this subject when introduced in Parliament would be watched carefully.

Hon. Stirling explained the difficulty of placing such an embargo, first asking who can indicate an aggressor nation. Most persons in Canada believe that Japan is the aggressor nation in China, but the aggressor nation in the Spanish war, for instance, is another matter entirely.

Hon. Grote Stirling and Mrs. Stirling left Ottawa on Monday, June 5, and reached Kelowna on Friday, June 9, to spend the rest of the year at their home on Burne avenue in Kelowna.

defence made a statement as to Canada's requirements, as prepared by the various sections of his department, but did not indicate what the government has decided to do with regards to providing further material.

"Do you think that Hon. MacKenzie's program is sufficient for Canada's defence requirements," Mr. Stirling was asked.

"The program is not sufficient if Canada is going to compare herself with the per capita expenditure of Great Britain, but the program will move us along the road of rearmament which is the road being travelled by countries of the Empire and almost the whole world," he replied. Hon. Stirling was minister of national defence in the Bennett government.

The member for Yale had spoken to Rotary regarding the visit of Their Majesties to Ottawa, but he elaborated still further to The Courier.

"The most impressive point of the whole visit of Their Majesties is the tremendous effect it will have in cementing the link which binds us to the Empire," he stated. "Even more than that, however, it will assist us in drawing together the various parts of Canada into such a unity which Confederation foreshadowed."

"When I first thought of their visit I did not realize what it would mean to Canada in drawing all the various peoples and nationalities together. But when I heard of the wonderful manner in which the French people in Quebec took those two to their hearts, the full realization of the visit's importance struck me most forcibly."

Asked as to the possibility of obtaining federal marketing legislation, Hon. Stirling was not hopeful. But he does marvel at the change of attitude of the prairie persons regarding marketing acts.

"You and I know only too well the reaction of the prairies to the natural products marketing act five years ago," he continued. "But when that important agricultural group visited the minister of agriculture following the Bracken conference the picture had changed. Hon. James Gardiner attempted to show them his plans for wheat, but they brushed them aside in favor of a natural products marketing act. I attribute this change of heart mainly to the work of the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture."

Following the announcement of the Canada-United States trade agreement, an attempt was made by the Okanagan fruit and vegetable interests, through the Canadian Horticultural Council to amend the seasons for application of dump duties on some fruits and vegetables into split seasons.

Hon. Stirling stated that no progress had been made regarding split seasons when he left Ottawa, but there is still work being accomplished along this line.

15 pounds and the deep lug, at actual weights. The four-basket crate is sent principally to the prairie, the eastern market takes the display lug and Vancouver takes the deep lug exclusively.

For Pooling Purposes

For pooling purposes, the meeting set an estimated packing charge of 40 cents on four-baskets, and 36 cents each on display and deep lugs. The differential to allow operation of a pool will be four cents per package.

It was agreed that any precooling, fanning or special service of any kind, ordered by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., will be a charge against the grower. Charges for precooling or cold storage may not exceed four cents per package, covering up to two weeks.

All assembly, loading and trucking charges and inspection fees will be taken care of by the company and invoices covering assembly, loading or trucking are to be rendered to the company by the shipper within five days of the closing of any pool.

The shipper will be charged with any claims which can be traced to his negligence but all other claims and allowances will be chargeable to the pool covering the particular shipment on which the allowance is made. The decision of the company is final as to which claims are chargeable to the pool and which to the shipper.

The fresh fruit market referred to in the contract includes Canada, United States and Great Britain, and there is every possibility that some shipments will be made to England this spring.

An endeavor will be made to have Royal Annes in the Penticton district used for cannery rather than have cherries shipped in from other districts. A circular on the proper maturity for processed cherries will be sent out immediately to shippers.

Safety Valve

Some shippers wished to have the agreement between certain shippers and the Sunoka company continued over the next three years and have a deduction of one-fifth cent on the crop so that the debt to the growers owed by the Sunoka people could be definitely cleared. It was felt that the Sunoka company, although it had not been entirely successful in its operations, had provided a safety valve worth many cents per package to the growers and shippers, as it removed cherries from the domestic market which would have proved a glut on the fresh fruit market.

However, it was not deemed advisable to place any such stipulation in the supplementary contract and those shippers who had agreements with the Sunoka people discussed the question at a short session Tuesday afternoon, but it is understood no definite agreement was reached.

With the sale of stocks on hand and the fifth of a cent levy over three years growers who are creditors of the Sunoka at present for cherries supplied could be assured of obtaining their money in a definite stated period.

TO STAGE SECOND BOYS' BAND CONCERT

The second band concert of the summer season by the Kelowna Boys Band will be staged in the city park on Thursday evening, June 29, A. C. Guild, conductor, announces. This aggregation of 26 young boys will be swelled for the first four numbers of the concert program by twelve beginners, who will be making their debut before a public audience.

The first concert was fairly well attended despite the coolness of the evening and it is expected a much larger crowd will be on hand next Thursday to hear the young musicians.

Earl Hardie Chosen President of Rutland's New Park Project

Public Meeting Chooses Directors and Hears That Nearly $2,000 Has Been Raised for Projects

Directors to take over control of the new Rutland Park were chosen at a public meeting held in the Rutland community hall on Wednesday, June 14th. In spite of wet weather there was a good attendance, indicating the general interest in this worthwhile project. The following were chosen to be directors for the ensuing year: by acclamation: Earl Hardie, George Reith, D. McDougall, W. F. Schell and D. H. Campbell.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, E. Hardie was chosen president, and D. McDougall secretary. Capt. C. R. Bull, M.L.A., who has been an active worker, particularly in connection with the swimming pool, declined nomination to the directorate, as did A. K. Loyd and F. L. Fitzpatrick, all of whom served on the temporary committee in charge of the purchase negotiations.

Capt. Bull spoke at some length at the commencement of the meeting, outlining the origin and development of the project from its initial stages.

A report of the finances showed that a total of $1,952.80 had been raised for the purchase of the grounds and to build the swimming pool. The large portion of this had been raised by public subscription. Sufficient funds are in hand to make the final payment on the land on July 1st, but much remains to be done in the way of improvement of the grounds, tree planting, and accommodation for spectators and dressing rooms for athletes, swimmers etc. Arrangements have been made to have the entire field plowed, levelled and seeded immediately, and the baseball diamond laid out. This will be ready for use at the beginning of next season, but the swimming pool will be ready for use early in July.

Hear School Report

The Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting, the last of the season, at the community hall on Wednesday afternoon last, with a good attendance of members. Amongst other matters of business attended to, it was arranged to hold a lawn social at the home of the president, Mrs. D. B. McLeod, on June 27th at 7.30 p.m.

Speakers for the meeting were Jenny Bell and Basil Bond, the pupils of the Rutland High School chosen to go to Vancouver to represent their school on the occasion of the visit of the King and Queen. They described in detail their experiences and impressions while at the coast city. Both speakers were well received and the meeting for the week immediately preceding the royal visit. This school has an enrollment of 2500 pupils, and a staff of 51 teachers. Jenny Bell dealt mainly with the construction and equipment of the school, while Basil Bond compared the curriculum and school organization, with the local methods, which he found to be very similar in many regards. Both speakers were tendered a hearty vote of thanks, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. W. H. Ford, Mrs. F. H. Ford and Mrs. Paul Bach. The Institute will hold its annual picnic in the Kelowna Park on Tuesday, July 11th.

The Ladies Welfare Club met at the home of Mrs. F. L. Fitzpatrick on Monday evening for its final meeting of the season. After the year's business had been wound up the members spent an enjoyable evening with various games and contests. Refreshments were served by the hostess later in the evening.

Harold McIvor left on Thursday last for Oliver to take over the duties of head packer at the McLean and Fitzpatrick branch house at that point.
